Important Warranty Information Regarding Television Format Viewing

Standard screen format televisions (4:3, the aspect ratio of the screen width to height) are primarily designed to view standard format full-motion video. The images displayed on them should primarily be in the standard 4:3 ratio format and constantly moving. Displaying stationary graphics and images on screen, such as the dark top and bottom letterbox bars (wide screen pictures), should be limited to no more than 15% of the total television viewing per week.

Wide screen format televisions (16:9, the aspect ratio of the screen width to height) are primarily designed to view wide screen format full-motion video. The images displayed on them should primarily be in the wide screen 16:9 ratio format, or expanded to fill the screen if your model offers this feature, and constantly moving. Displaying stationary graphics and images on screen, such as the dark side-bars on non-expanded standard format television video and programming, should be limited to no more than 15% of the total television viewing per week.

Additionally, viewing other stationary images and text such as stock market reports, video game displays, station logos, web sites or computer graphics and patterns, should be limited as described above for all televisions. Displaying any stationary images that exceed the above guidelines can cause uneven aging of picture tubes (CRTs) that leave subtle, but permanent burned-in ghost images in the television picture. To avoid this, vary the programming and images, and primarily display full screen moving images, not stationary patterns or dark bars. On television models that offer picture sizing features, use these controls to view the different formats as a full screen picture.

Be careful in the selection and duration of television formats used for viewing. Uneven CRT aging as a result of format selection and use, as well as other burned-in images, is not covered by your Samsung limited warranty.

INSTALLATION

Connecting VHF and UHF Antennas

If your antenna has a set of leads that look like this, see “Antennas with 300-ohm Flat Twin Leads” below.

If your antenna has one lead that looks like this, see “Antennas with 75-ohm Round Leads” on the next page.

If you have two antennas, see “Separate VHF and UHF Antennas” on the next page.

Antennas with 300-ohm Flat Twin Leads

If you are using an off-air antenna (such as a roof antenna or “rabbit ears”) that has 300-ohm twin flat leads, follow the directions below.

1

Place the wires from the twin leads under the screws on the 300-75 ohm adaptor (not supplied). Use a screwdriver to tighten the screws.

2

Plug the adaptor into the “VHF/UHF” terminal on the rear panel.

Antennas with 75-ohm Round Leads

- 1 Plug the antenna lead into the "VHF/UHF" terminal on the rear panel.

Separate VHF and UHF Antennas

If you have two separate antennas for your TV (one VHF and one UHF), you must combine the two antenna signals before connecting the antennas to the TV. This procedure requires an optional combiner-adaptor (available at most electronics shops).

- 1 Connect both antenna leads to the combiner.

- 2 Plug the combiner into the "VHF/UHF" terminal on the rear panel.

Connecting Cable TV

To connect to a cable TV system, follow the instructions below.

Cable without a Cable Box

1

Plug the incoming cable into the "VHF/UHF" terminal on the rear panel.

Connecting to a Cable Box that Descrambles All Channels

1

Find the cable that is connected to the ANTENNA OUT terminal on your cable box.

◀ This terminal might be labelled "ANT OUT", "VHF OUT" or simply, "OUT".

2

Connect the other end of this cable to the "VHF/UHF" terminal on the rear panel.

Connecting to a Cable Box that Descrambles Some Channels

If your cable box descrambles only some channels (such as premium channels), follow the instructions below. You will need a two-way splitter, an RF (A/B) switch, and four lengths of coaxial cable. (These items are available at most electronics stores.)

1

Find and disconnect the cable that is connected to the ANTENNA IN terminal on your cable box.

◀ This terminal might be labelled “ANT IN”, “VHF IN” or simply, “IN”.

2

Connect this cable to a two-way splitter. Connect a coaxial cable between an OUTPUT terminal on the splitter and the IN terminal on the cable box.

3

Connect a coaxial cable between the ANTENNA OUT terminal on the cable box and the B-IN terminal on the RF (A/B) switch.

4

Connect another cable between the other OUT terminal on the splitter and the A-IN terminal on the RF (A/B) switch.

5

Connect the last coaxial cable between the OUT terminal on the RF (A/B) switch and the “VHF/UHF” terminal on the rear panel.

After you've made this connection, set the A/B switch to the “A” position for normal viewing. Set the A/B switch to the “B” position to view scrambled channels. (When you set the A/B switch to “B”, you will need to tune your TV to the cable box's output channel, which is usually channel 3 or 4.)

Connecting a VCR

These instructions assume that you have already connected your TV to an antenna or a cable TV system (according to the instructions on pages 11~14).

- Please be sure to match the color coded input terminals and cable jacks.

1

Connect a coaxial cable between the "VHF/UHF" terminal on the TV and the antenna out terminal on the VCR.

A coaxial cable is usually included with a VCR. (If not, check your local electronics store).

2

Connect a set of audio cables between the "AV IN 1 (L, R)" (or "AV IN 2 (L, R)") jacks on the TV and AUDIO OUT jacks on the VCR.

If you have a mono VCR, connect L(mono) to VCR audio out using only one audio cable.

3

Connect a video cable between the "AV IN 1 (VIDEO)" "AV IN 2 (VIDEO)" jack on the TV and the VIDEO OUT jack on the VCR.

Refer to your VCR's instructions for more information about how to view your VCR tape.

- Also, you can connect to "AV IN 2" on the side panel of TV.

Connecting a Second VCR to Record from the TV

Your TV can send out signals of its picture and sound to be recorded by a second VCR. To do this, connect your second VCR as follows:

1

Connect a set of audio cables between the "AV OUT (L, R)" jacks on the TV and AUDIO IN jacks on the VCR.

The VCR input jacks might be either on the front or on back of the VCR.

2

Connect a video cable between the "AV OUT (VIDEO)" jack on the TV and the VIDEO IN jack on the VCR.

Refer to your VCR's instructions for more information about how to record using this kind of connection.

Connecting a DVD Player

The rear panel jacks on your TV make it easy to connect a DVD player to your TV.

- Please be sure to match the color coded input terminals and cable jacks.

Connecting to Y, Pb, Pr

Connect a set of video cables between the “COMPONENT IN (Y, Pb, Pr)” jacks on the TV and the COMPONENT VIDEO OUT (Y, Pb, Pr) jacks on the DVD player. For an explanation of Component video, see your DVD player’s owner’s instruction.

Connecting to Regular Audio and Video Jacks

1

Connect a set of audio cables between the “AV IN 1 (L, R)” (or “AV IN 2 (L, R)”) jacks on the TV and the AUDIO OUT jacks on the DVD player.

2

Connect a video cable between the “AV IN 1 (VIDEO)” (or “AV IN 2 (VIDEO)”) jack on the TV and the VIDEO OUT jack on the DVD player.

- Also, you can connect to “AV IN 2” on the side panel of TV.

Connecting a Camcorder

The side panel jacks on your TV make it easy to connect a Camcorder to your TV. They allow you to view the Camcorder tapes without using a VCR.

- Please be sure to match the color coded input terminals and cable jacks.

1

Locate the A/V output jacks on the Camcorder. They are usually found on the side or rear of the Camcorder.

2

Connect a set of audio cables between the "AV IN 2 (L, R)" jacks on the TV and the AUDIO OUT jacks on the Camcorder.

If you have mono Camcorder, connect L(mono) to Camcorder audio out using only one audio cable.

3

Connect a video cable between the "AV IN 2 (VIDEO)" jack on the TV and the VIDEO OUT jacks on the Camcorder.

The audio-video cables shown here are usually included with a Camcorder. (If not, check your local electronics store.) If your Camcorder is stereo, you need to connect a set of two cables.

TV Side Panel

Connecting to an Analog Amplifier

- Please be sure to match the color coded input terminals and cable jacks.

The "AV OUT (L, R)" jacks cannot be used for external speakers. You must hook them up to an amplifier.
