CARING FOR YOUR DEVICE

MAKING IT LAST

Your device is a complex electronic device. Here are some hints that should help you extend the life of your new device.

Store your device in a protective case.

The touch screen of your device is delicate and should be protected from scratches.

Keep your device in a safe place—away from children who may find it fun to see if it sinks or floats, and away from dogs that find it to be an irresistible chew toy.

Water will damage your device and accessories—even a small amount such as water droplets from a soda in your car cup-holder, melting snowflakes, tears of joy, squirt-gun crossfire or steam from hot water in the kitchen or bathroom.

If your charger or any other accessory is damaged, replace it or take it to a qualified service dealer—Do not attempt to operate your charger if it has received a sharp blow, been dropped, thrown from a speeding motorcycle or is otherwise damaged; doing so may damage your device.

TIPS FOR SAFETY

Check with your doctor if you have a pacemaker or a hearing aid to ensure that it is safe for you to use this device. If you have questions about the interaction of cellular radio frequency and any other electronic equipment, ask the manufacturer of the equipment if cellular radio frequencies will disrupt the equipment's performance.

T-Mobile encourages you to use your device in a safe and sensible manner when driving. Remember that laws prohibiting or restricting the use of a mobile device while driving may apply in your area.
