Remote control unit The optionally available RC 08 infrared remote control unit allows you to conveniently operate the most important 6 REMOVABLE FRONT PANEL

Theft protection system To prevent your car audio system from being stolen, it has been equipped with a removable front panel (flip release panel). Without the front panel, the car audio system is useless to thieves. Protect your car audio system against theft and take the operating panel with you each time you leave the vehicle. Never leave the release panel in the car, even if it is well hidden.

The panel has been designed so that it is easy to remove. Notes: Do not drop the release panel. Do not expose the release panel to direct sunlight or other heat sources. Store the release panel in the case supplied. guides from left to right.

Press the left-hand side of the panel onto the car audio system until it locks into place. Removing the operating panel Press 1. The release panel will unlock.

Note: While replacing the panel, be careful not to press on the display. If the car audio system was on when you removed the panel, it will automatically switch back on using the same settings when you replace it (radio, CD player or CD changer).

First pull the operating panel forward and then slide it to the left to remove it. 7 PORTUGUÊS ESPAÑOL Replacing the operating panel Slide the operating panel into the FRANÇAIS ENGLISH Removable front panel When you remove the operating panel, the car audio system will automatically switch off. All of the settings will remain stored. A CD inserted into the car audio system will remain in place. SWITCHING ON/OFF Switching the car audio system on/off

The car audio system can be switched on/off in a number of ways. Switching the car audio system on/ off with the ignition If the car audio system has been connected to your vehicle ignition, it is possible to switch it on and off with the ignition. You can also switch the car audio system on when the ignition is switched off. Switching the car audio system on by inserting a CD If the system is switched off and there is no CD in the CD player, press 9. The flip release panel will open. Insert the CD into the CD player with the label facing up until you feel slight resistance.

Do not use force. The CD will be pulled automatically into the CD player. Do not attempt to assist or prevent this process. Press down and hold 3 until the car audio system switches on. Note: To prevent the car battery from running down, the radio will switch off again automatically after one hour. Switching the car audio system on/ off with the removable front panel Press the operating panel closed gently until you feel it click into place. The audio system will switch on. CD playback will begin. Remove the release panel. The car audio system will switch off.

Replace the release panel. The car audio system will switch on again. The last settings used (radio, CD player or CD changer) will be activated. Switching the car audio system on/ off by pressing 3 Press 3 to switch the car audio system on. Press 3 for longer than 2 seconds to switch the car audio system off again.

The system will then switch off. 8 VOLUME CONTROL The car audio system volume can be adjusted to levels from 0 (off) to 66 (maximum). You can reduce the volume of the car audio system immediately (mute)..
