Important Health Warning About Playing Video Games

Photosensitive seizures

A very small percentage of people may experience a seizure when exposed to certain visual images, including flashing lights or patterns that may appear in video games. Even people who have no history of seizures or epilepsy may have an undiagnosed condition that can cause these “photosensitive epileptic seizures” while watching video games.

These seizures may have a variety of symptoms, including lightheadedness, altered vision, eye or face twitching, jerking or shaking of arms or legs, disorientation, confusion, or momentary loss of awareness. Seizures may also cause loss of consciousness or convulsions that can lead to injury from falling down or striking nearby objects.

Immediately stop playing and consult a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms. Parents should watch for or ask their children about the above symptoms—children and teenagers are more likely than adults to experience these seizures. The risk of photosensitive epileptic seizures may be reduced by taking the following precautions: Sit farther from the screen; use a smaller screen; play in a well-lit room; do not play when you are drowsy or fatigued.

If you or any of your relatives have a history of seizures or epilepsy, consult a doctor before playing.

ESRB Game Ratings

The Entertainment Software Rating Board (ESRB) ratings are designed to provide consumers, especially parents, with concise, impartial guidance about the age-appropriateness and content of computer and video games. This information can help consumers make informed purchase decisions about which games they deem suitable for their children and families.

ESRB ratings have two equal parts:

- Rating Symbols suggest age appropriateness for the game. These symbols appear on the front of virtually every game box available for retail sale or rental in the United States and Canada.
- Content Descriptors indicate elements in a game that may have triggered a particular rating and/or may be of interest or concern. The descriptors appear on the back of the box next to the rating symbol.

Minigames

In some levels, you'll have to hack into different computer systems to continue on your mission.

These are virtual world minigames which the player is required to complete in order to progress. These minigames have their own HUD, pick-ups, and weapon upgrades.

The pick-ups include health and energy, as well as weapon upgrades. Weapon upgrades include a bullet spreader, which splits the single fire into a triple fire shot, and a rapid fire upgrade which doubles the current fire rate. These upgrades can also be mixed to enhance the effect. For example, if you pick up a triple fire shot and then pick up a rapid fire shot, you are now upgraded with a rapid fire triple shot. There is also a "bomb" attack which is used by pressing the ■ right trigger. This attack destroys all enemies within a certain radius, but it also slows you down for a few seconds and consumes all of your energy.

Game varies in amount of floors required to complete the hack. Once all floors are cleared, the hack ends and you can resume control of Penny.
