Chapter 1 – Accessing the ESP Websites Administration Area

Open your internet browser and type: espweb.asicentral.com in the address bar.

Enter your ASI#, Username and Password then click “Log in”. To remain logged in on your computer, simply select the “Remember ASI #/ Username” field. Your ASI number and Username will be automatically filled in the next time you go to ESP Websites.

A screenshot of the login page. The page has a yellow header with the word "Login". Below the header are three input fields: "asi/" with the value "55555", "Username" with the value "JShinberg", and "Password" with masked characters. There is a checkbox labeled "Remember ASI #/Username" and a "Log In" button. Below the login fields is a section titled "Need Assistance?" with links for "Forgot My Username", "Forgot My Password", and "Password Hint". At the bottom, there is contact information for Product Support: "Product Support is available Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. until 6 p.m.. Contact us at 800-546-1350, option 2 or support@asicentral.com".

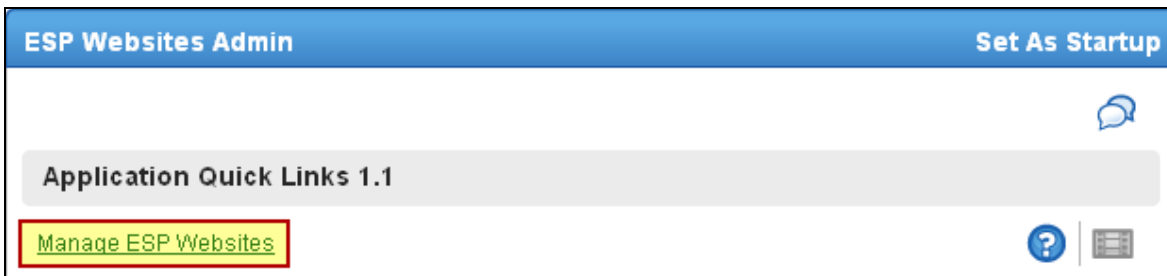

If you have forgotten your username, click the “Forgot Username” link in the “Need Assistance” section below the log in fields. A pop-up window will open. Enter your email address and your Username will be immediately emailed to you.

There are two ways to recover your password. The first way to retrieve your password is to click on the “Forgot your Password” link, which will open a pop-up window. Answer the security questions programmed during your initial set up. Then, for security reasons, enter your zip code. Your password will be emailed to you.

The second way to recall your password is to click on the Password Hint link. “Password Hint” will display a hint you set up when you created your account to help you to remember your password. The hint will display below the Remember ASI#/Username checkbox.

After you have entered your ASI number, Username, and Password, click on the Log In button.

After logging in, you will see the Dashboard, where all of the application for which you have a license will be displayed. To gain access to ESP Websites from here, click on the “Manage ESP Websites” link in the ESP Websites Admin section.

The product listing includes a checkbox, a product image of a black mug, the product name 'SM-6303 Constellation Ceramic Mug', pricing information 'List Price: 1008 @$2.01 Net Cost: 1008 @$1.206', a 'CONFIRMED' status with a blue checkmark, a description 'Constellation ceramic 12 oz. mug. 4-1/4" H x 3-3/8" D.', a star rating of 4.5 out of 5 stars based on 100 reviews, and a red-bordered 'Add to Clipboard' button.

The screenshot shows a search results page. At the top, there is a breadcrumb trail: '[Design Studio - Banners] > Product Search > Return to [Design Studio - Banners]', with the second part highlighted in a red box. Below the breadcrumb, it says '1 item(s) from 1 supplier(s) are found for "sm-6303"'. There are filters for 'Your Search Terms' (containing 'sm-6303') and 'Narrow Results'. On the right, there are controls for 'Clipboard (1)', 'Marked Items', and 'Print'. Below these are tabs for 'Summary View' and 'Tile View'. The product listing is identical to the previous screenshot, but the 'Add to Clipboard' button is not highlighted.

Now, in the Banner Upload area, select Product Detail Page and select the product that you added to the Clipboard. Click on Add in the Action area to finish this banner.

The screenshot shows the 'My Banner' configuration screen. It has a table with columns: Banner, Ad Size, File Size, Click-Through Destination, and Action. The first row shows a banner named '185749_header.jpg' with Ad Size 'Large Banner' and File Size '41'. The 'Click-Through Destination' column is expanded to show a dropdown menu with options: 'Product Detail Page', 'URL', 'Select Product', 'Select Product', 'Constellation Ceramic Mug', and 'Select Search'. The 'Constellation Ceramic Mug' option is highlighted in blue. There are information icons (i) next to the dropdown options. The 'Action' column has 'Add' and 'Delete' links.

- “I want to display the following Product Collection on my home page”. This option enables you to select the Product Collection to be displayed on your home page.

If you need to build a product collection, click on the Manage Product Collections tab. Then, click on the “Create a New Product Collection” button.

Product of the Day

The Product of the Day section is where you can select to have a specific product or a rotation of specific products available directly on your home page. In the Product of the Day section, there are two tabs: Setup and List of Schedules.

Setup is where you can select the options for your Product of the Day. In the Setup tab, there are two options:

- Let the system choose a Product of the Day Automatically
- I want to select my own Products of the Day.

The screenshot shows the 'Setup' tab in the Product of the Day section. It features two radio buttons for selection: 'Let the system choose a Product of the Day Automatically' (unselected) and 'I want to select my own Products of the Day' (selected). Below these is a dropdown menu labeled 'Use my existing Product of the Day Schedule:' with the option 'Auto-generated Product of the Day' selected. At the bottom, there are three buttons: 'Create New Schedule', 'Edit Schedule(s)', and 'Apply'.

If you select “I want to select my own Products of the Day”, the options to help you use a Product of the Day schedule will appear. You can select the schedule you would like to use from the dropdown and then click Apply. If you need to edit an existing schedule, select it from the dropdown and click on the “Edit Schedule(s)” button. If you need to create a new schedule, click on the “Create New Schedule” button.

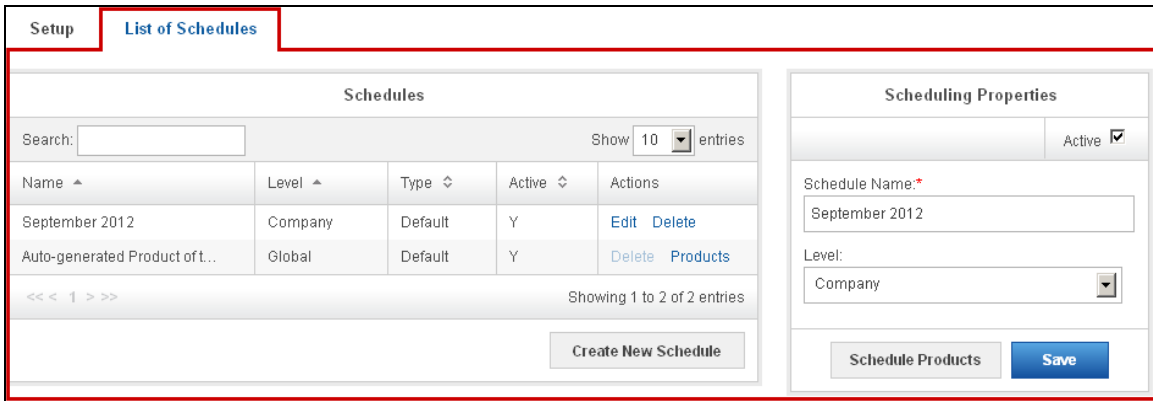

To create a new Product of the Day schedule, click on the “Create New Schedule” button. A pop-up window will open.

Type the Schedule Name, select a level from the dropdown, and check the Active box (For more information on these levels, please review Appendix A: Levels in the ESP Admin).

Click on Save after you have entered this information.

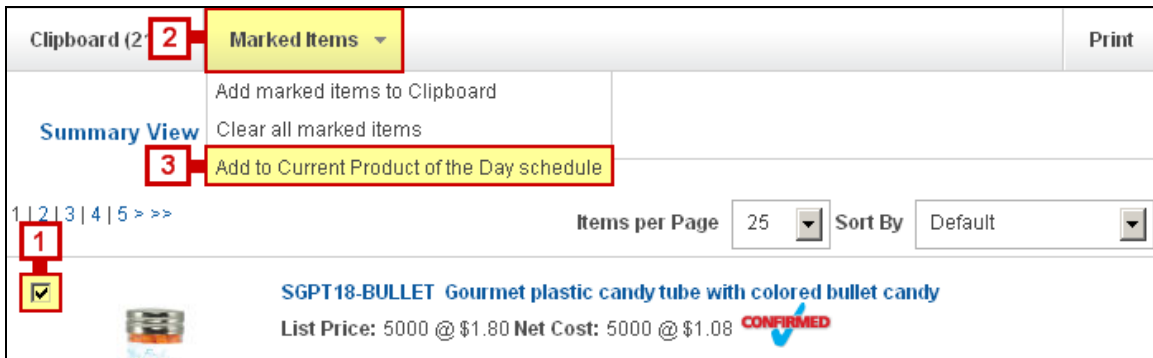

The screenshot shows a pop-up window titled 'Create a New Schedule'. It contains a form with the following fields: 'Schedule Name' (text input with 'September 2012'), 'Level' (dropdown menu with 'Company'), and 'Active' (checkbox checked). At the bottom right, there are 'Save' and 'Cancel' buttons.

Now, you will need to put products into this schedule. Click on the List of Schedules tab, then, in Schedules section, locate the schedule you just created and click on the Edit link in the Actions area. In the Scheduling Properties box, click on Schedule Products.

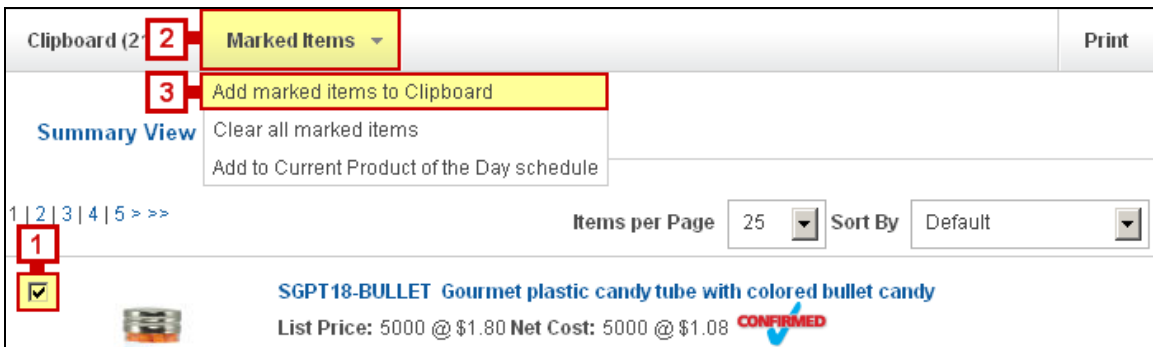

A new tab, Edit Schedule, will open and now you will be able to add products. Products can be added from the Clipboard.

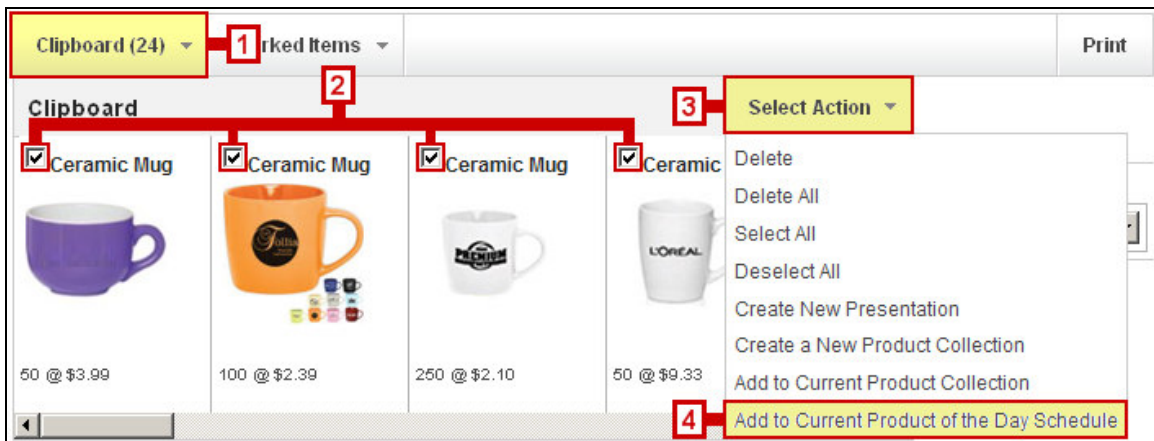

If you do not have already saved the products to the Clipboard, click on the Search for Products button. To add a single product, search for the product you would like to use, mark it, and then click on the Marked Items button. Select “Add to Current Product of the Day Schedule” from the dropdown.

To add multiple products, search for a product and mark it. Then, click on the Marked Items button and select “Add marked items to Clipboard” option.

Repeat this process until you have added all of the products you would like to work with onto your Clipboard. Then, click on the Clipboard, mark the products you would like to use and select “Add to Current Product of the Day schedule” from the dropdown.

After adding the products to the Product of the Day Schedule area, click on the edit link under actions to set a start and end date.

Site Navigation

There are two site navigation areas in the Design Studio, one is directly under Design Studio and the other is in the Advanced Design options. This section will focus on the site navigation located directly under the Design Studio. In this section, you can edit your existing site navigation menus. If you need to create a new menu, please review Chapter 5 – Design Studio, the Advanced Design section.

To edit an existing menu, use the Select a Menu dropdown to choose which menu you would like to edit. Top is the default navigation menu for your site.

After selecting the menu you would like to edit, click on a menu item to edit its properties or add to it. Next, select a menu item. Please note that “Home” and “Product Search” are static and cannot be edited. In the example below, “More” is selected. The menu item will display in the Properties column. The Properties column is where we can edit the display name (the name of the menu item that will be displayed on your site), the type of item, and the details.

There are several different types of items. The types available in the dropdown are:

- Event
- URL
- Pages
- MailTo
- Product Collections
- Select-A-Searches
- Text
- Top Searches

The Detail will be dependent on the type of item you select. For example, if you choose Product Collection, the detail will display a dropdown of all available product collections.

The Advanced options will display options for opening the menu item, as well as the ability to enter CSS class information. If you are not well versed in CSS, it is recommended that you do not enter information in the CSS class field. When you are finished editing this menu item, click on Save.

If you would like to create a submenu for this menu item, in the lower section of the Properties area, click on the Add button.

Now, a second Properties window will be displayed with the “Navigation Item Options”.

You can edit this submenu item the same way as the main menu item.

Edit the Navigation Item Options:

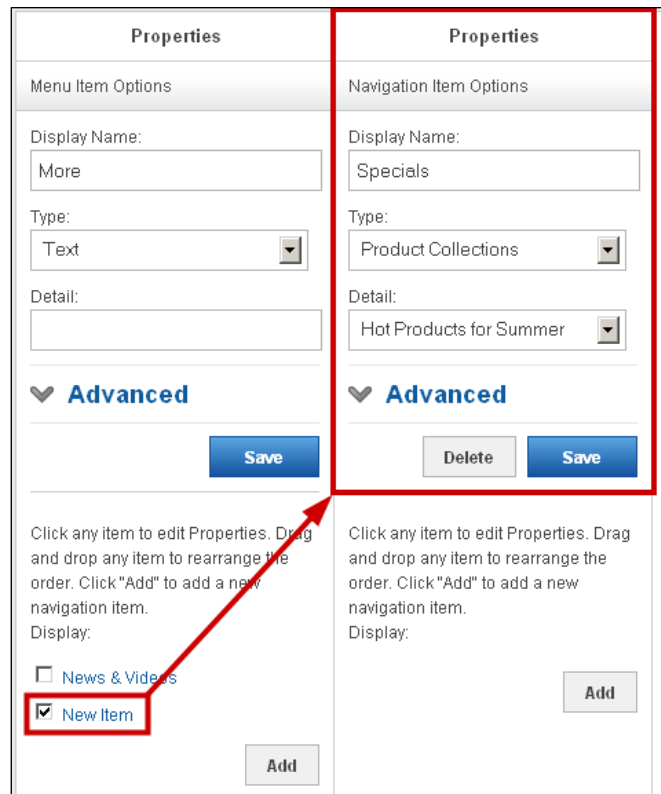

- Add a Display Name
- Select a type
- Select/Add Detail

Click on the Save button.

If you wanted to add another menu item below the new Navigation Item, you can use the Add button in the lower portion of the Properties window.

To make a menu item inactive, just uncheck it.

Another column of Properties will open and will display a blank Navigation Items Options area. Just edit and save.

There are two preview buttons; both will display a preview of your menu. If you are satisfied with your site navigation, go to the Settings Toolbar and click on Publish.

Once this menu has been published, this is what it will look like on your site:

Introductory Text

The Introductory Text area is where you update the text that is shown on your home page. You can just type a headline and text, then click on the Save button.

There is a toolbar across the top of the text area.

	Undo/Redo
	Image Manager, Link/Unlink Text, Insert Horizontal Rule, Insert Company Address, Insert Symbol
	Paragraph Style, Font Name, Font Size
	Bold, Italic, Underline
	Left Align, Center, Right Align, Justified, Remove Alignment
	Increase Indent, Decrease Indent
	Numbered List, Bulleted List
	Show/Hide Border
	Font Color, Font Background Color, Format Stripper
	Spell Check
	Insert Table

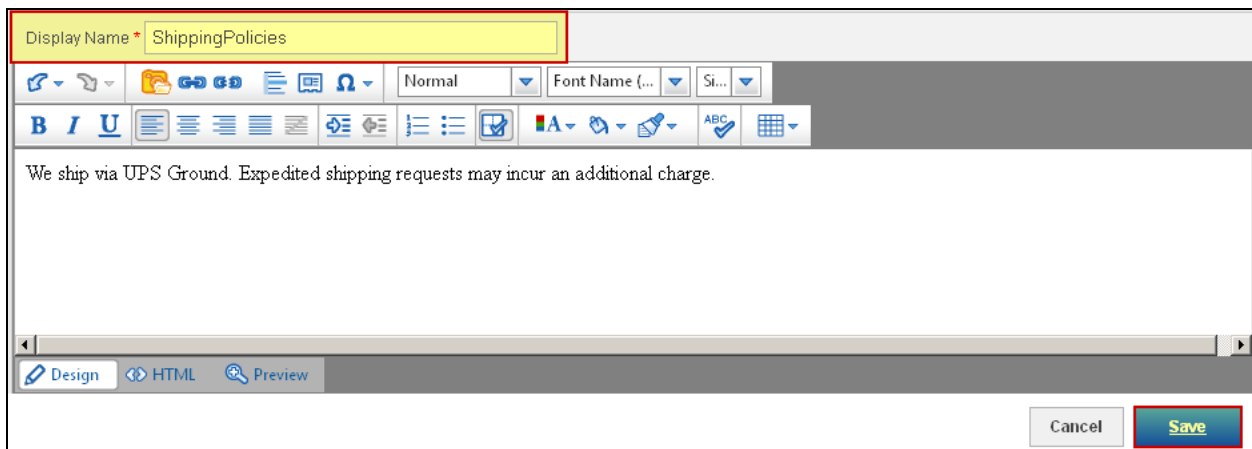

Below the text area, you can also click on the HTML button to edit the HTML coding of your Introductory Text.

Pages

The Pages area is where you can create additional pages for your site. Your site will automatically create a default About Us page. In this area, you can edit the About Us page by typing new text, using the toolbar or switching to HTML mode. When you are finished making your changes, click on the Save button at the bottom.

You can use the Create New Page button in the upper right hand corner to begin creating your own custom page for your site. After clicking on the button, you need enter a Display Name. The Display Name will be an extension of your URL (ex: abcpromos.espsites.com/DisplayName) and therefore cannot contain spaces. Then, enter your text and customize it using the toolbar. Then, click on Save.

You will then need to add your page to your navigation. For more information on how to do this, please review Chapter 5 – Design Studio, Site Navigation or Chapter 5 – Design Studio, Advanced Design – Site Navigation.

Advanced Design

The Advanced Design area is where you can apply features to make them live on your site. There are four options available in the Advanced Design section: Manage Pages, Site Navigation, Manage Artwork and Edit the Style Sheet. When you try to access any portion of the Advanced Design, a warning stating:

Modifications made to your ESP Website using Advanced Design tools could cause standard Design Studio tools to no longer apply to certain features and functionality on your ESP Website. In some circumstances, you might need to reset your site and use SiteBuilder again. Additionally, any edits made to your site using Advanced Design tools will be lost if you decide to change your site template.

Manage Pages

The Manage Pages section enables you to add, edit, copy and delete the pages of your site. Also, this is where you can add features to your pages. There are two tabs in the Manage Pages section: Manage Pages and Edit Page. The Preview link will display a preview of the page. The “More” dropdown is where you can copy or delete a page.

<< < 1 > >> Showing 1 to 10 of 10 entries

A Page Name is the extension for this page from the site's URL. For example: `abcpromos.espwebsite.com/AboutUs`.

When you finished entering this information, click on the Create Page button.

When you click on the Edit link in the Manage Pages area, the properties of that page will open in the Properties area.

The Properties section is where you can update the Page Name and the Page Title.

You can check the Default Page box to make this your default page. Your default page is what displays when your site is accessed.

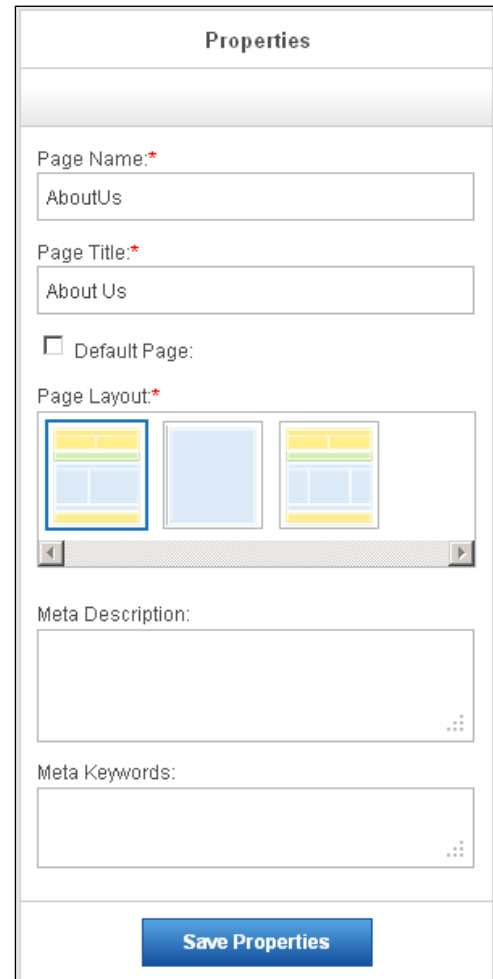

There are Page Layouts available. You can see a preview of each layout. Click on it to select it.

The Meta Description and Meta Keywords boxes are where you can enter individual meta tags for this page.

Generally, meta tags consist of three fields: title, description, and keywords. The title and description of your site will be displayed on a search engine's results page. They need to be coherent and concise.

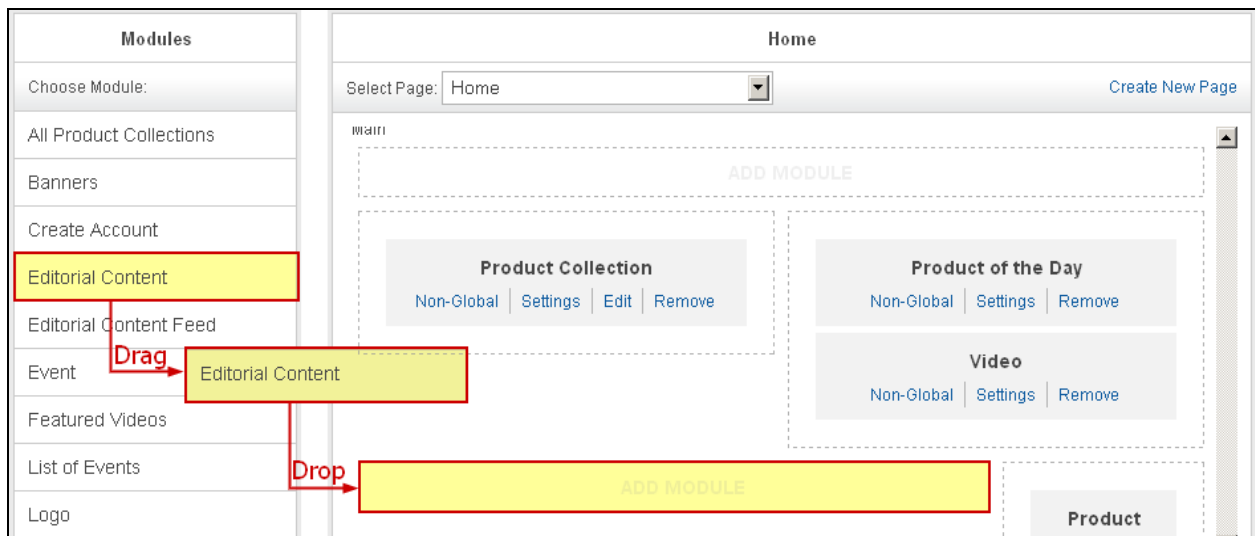

Keywords, on the other hand, will not be seen and are only for the search engine's background ranking processes. In this section, you can enter multiple keywords separated by commas. For example: `promo products, imprinted products, promo items, imprinted items, etc.`

When you are finished customizing the properties of your page, click on the Save Properties button.

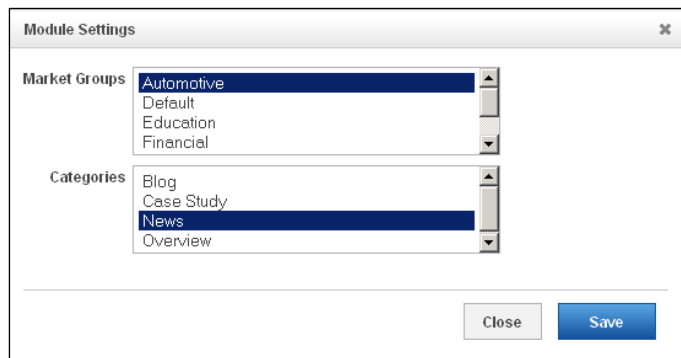

The next tab, Edit Page, is where you can customize the content of your pages. The Edit Page section displays your page in terms of modules and zones. Essentially, the feature you would like to have on your page is a module (Select-A-Search, Product Collectin, Text, etc.). The place on your site that you would like the module to display is a zone. The zones are broken down into sections: Header, Main and Footer.

The first step is to use the Select Page dropdown menu to select the page you would like to edit. You can drag a module to a zone and then configure it. For example, if we wanted to add Editorial Content to our Homepage, we could do so by dragging the Module on the left and dropping it into the zone of the page.

Then, after dragging and dropping the module into the zone, you will need to configure that module. The configuration options will vary depending on the module's capabilities. In the example above, Editorial Content will need to be configured.

When the module is dropped into the zone, the module settings window will automatically open. For Editorial Content, you will need to specify a Market Group and a Category. For example, Automotive and News.

After clicking Save, the module is added to the page.

Now, the module has been added to the page. To edit a module, you can do so at any time. There are two constant edit options: Global/Non-Global and Remove. Global/Non-Global refers to whether the module should be in that location on the page for all of the pages on your site. Any module that is set as Global will appear on every page of your site in that position, such as a header. Non-Global modules will only appear in their location on the page to which they have been added. For example, the Editorial Content that was added to the Home page will only display on the Home page. It will not appear anywhere else on the site. Most modules will have a Settings link which enables you to edit the settings for that module. Some modules will contain an Edit link which enables you to edit the information for that module.

More than one module can be added to a zone and modules can be dragged and dropped from one zone to another. There is no save button in this area. All changes are automatically saved. To make these changes live, click on the Publish link in the Settings menu.

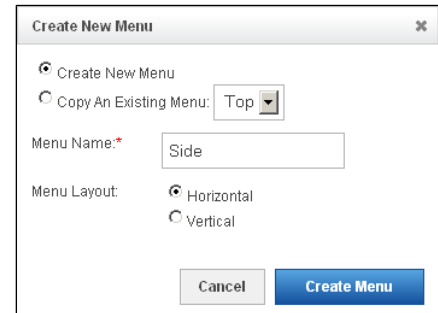

Site Navigation (Advanced)

The Site Navigation area in the Advanced Design section is where you can build new navigation menu, as well as edit or delete existing navigation menus. To create a New Menu, click on the “Create a New Menu” button.

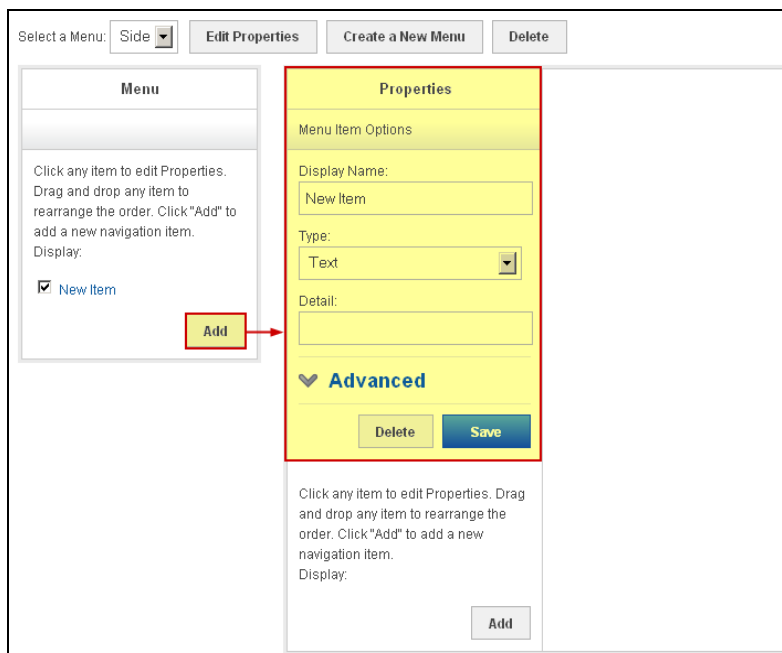

Then, configure the new menu by:

- Selecting whether you want to create a new menu or copy an existing one.
- Naming the menu (ex: Side).
- Selecting whether you would like this menu to be horizontal or vertical.
- Clicking on the “Create Menu” button when you are finished.

Now, begin building your menu by clicking on the Add button in the Menu section on the left.

The Properties column is where we can edit the display name (the name of the menu item that will be displayed on your site), the type of item, and the details.

There are several different types of items. The types available in the dropdown are:

- Event
- URL
- Pages
- MailTo
- Product Collections
- Select-A-Searches
- Text
- Top Searches

The Detail will be dependent on the type of item you select. For example, if you choose Product Collection, the detail will display a dropdown of all available product collections. In the example to the right, the type is Text, therefore, no detail is necessary and the field can be left blank.

The Advanced options will display options for opening the menu item, as well as the ability to enter CSS class information. If you are not well versed in CSS, it is recommended that you do not enter information in the CSS class field.

The screenshot shows a 'Properties' window for editing a menu item. The 'Menu Item Options' section includes a 'Display Name' field containing 'Stress Relievers', a 'Type' dropdown menu set to 'Text', and an empty 'Detail' field. The 'Advanced' section features an 'Open the item in:' dropdown menu with a list of options: 'Same Window' (highlighted), 'New Window', 'Parent Window', and 'Top Window'. At the bottom of the window are 'Delete' and 'Save' buttons.

When you are finished editing this menu item, click on Save.

If you would like to create a submenu for this menu item, in the lower section of the Properties area, click on the Add button.

Now, a second Properties window will be displayed with the “Navigation Item Options”. You can edit this submenu item the same way as the main menu item. Edit the Navigation Item Options:

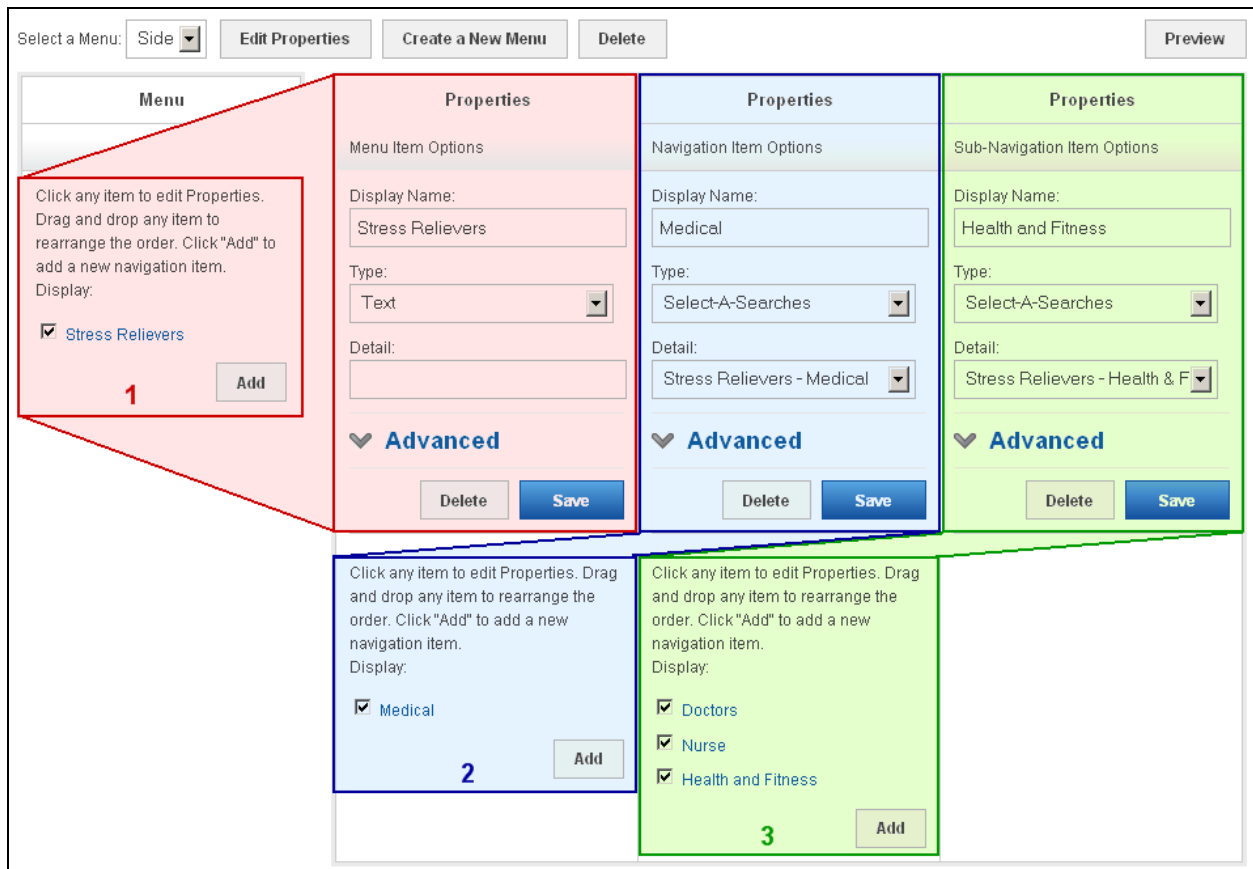

- Add a Display Name
- Select a type
- Select/Add Detail

Click on the Save button.

If you wanted to add another menu item below the new Navigation Item, you can use the Add button in the lower portion of the Properties window.

Below is an example of how a menu item with sub menus would appear in the Advanced Site Navigation area.

The highlighted sections correspond with where you will be able to edit those menu items.

The numbers in for the menu and navigation items indicate where they will be in the menu. In the example above, Stress Relievers is first, then Medical, then Doctors, Nurses, Health and Fitness. Therefore, then site navigation menu is:

1. Stress Relievers
2. Medical
3. Doctors
Nurses
Health and Fitness

To make a menu item inactive, just uncheck it.

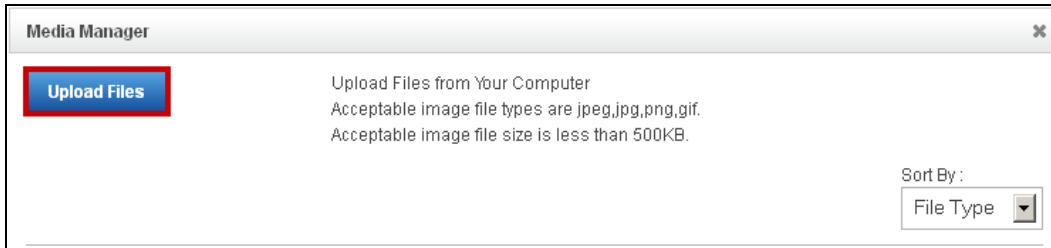

There are two preview buttons; both will display a preview of your menu. If you are satisfied with your site navigation, go to the Advanced Design, Manage Pages section and add the Navigation module to a zone on your site. Then, publish your site to make the menu live and active on your site.

Manage Artwork

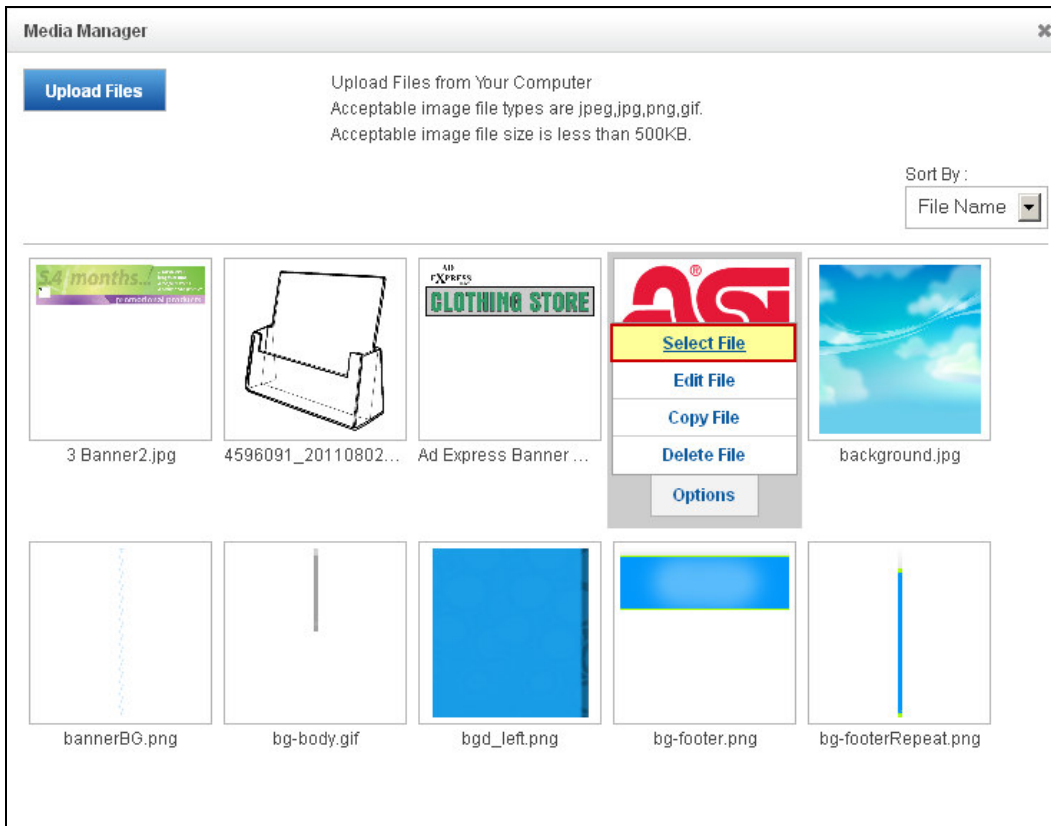

In this area, you can upload logos/images as designated approved artwork which can be used when customers are placing orders. To add artwork into this section, click on the “Upload Artwork” button.

Then, you can select from available files in your Media Manager. If you need to upload a file, click on the Upload Files button in the Media Manager.

Then, hover on the file, hover over “Options” and click on “Select File”.

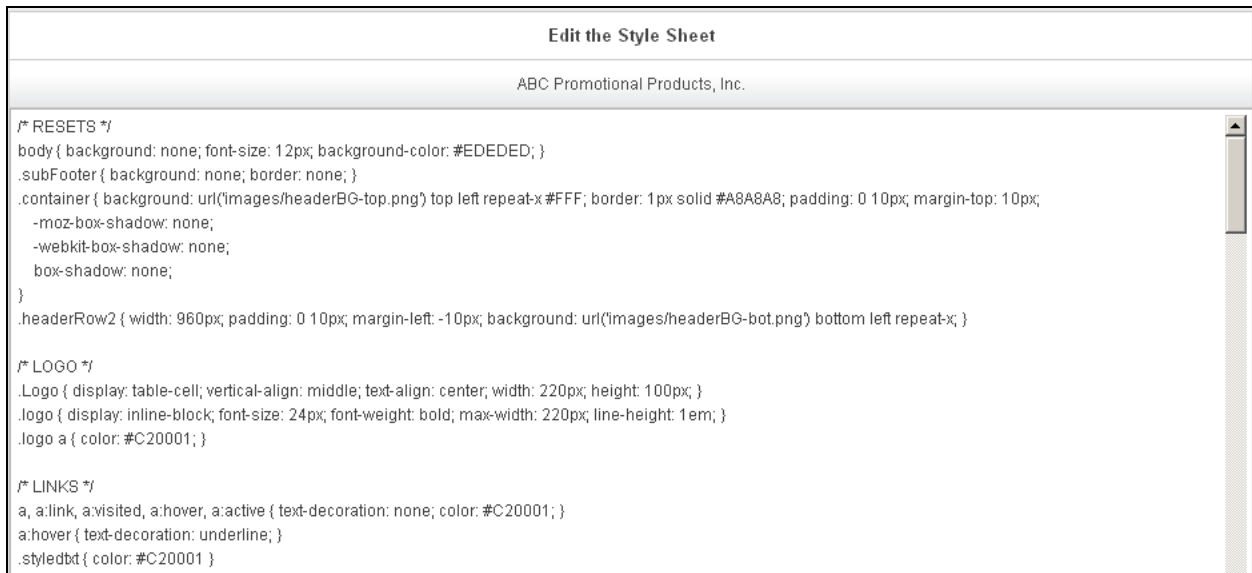

Now, the artwork is available for use in the Approved Artwork area.

Edit the Style Sheet

This option will bring you into the CSS of your site. It is strongly recommended that if you are not well versed in CSS that you do not make changes in this area.

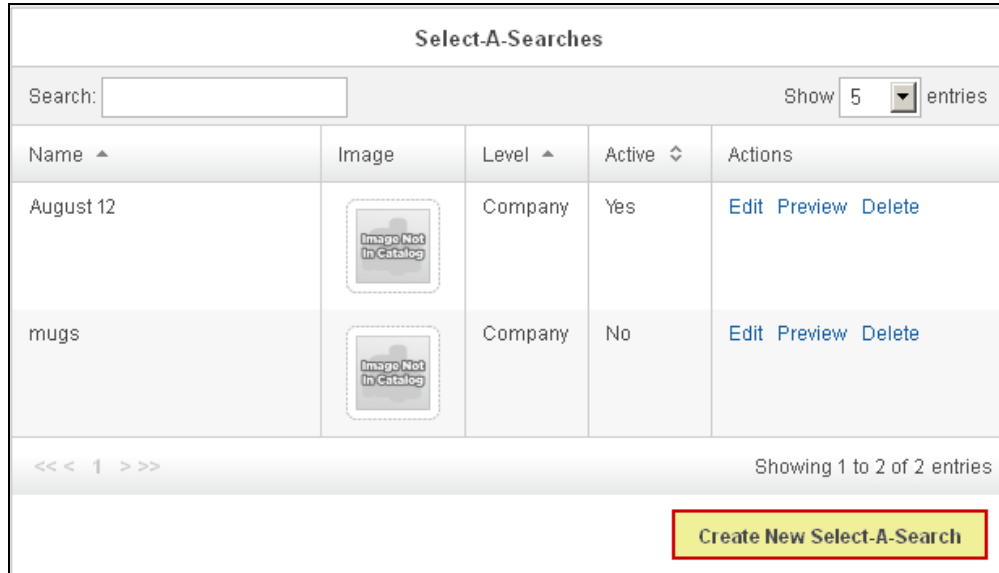

Chapter 6 – Features

The Features menu is where you can create features to use on your site. In this section, there are six options: Select-A-Searches, Media Library, Coupon Manager, Custom Products, Content Library and Exclusion Lists. You can create these features here, but remember, you will need to go into the Advanced Design to apply these modules to your pages.

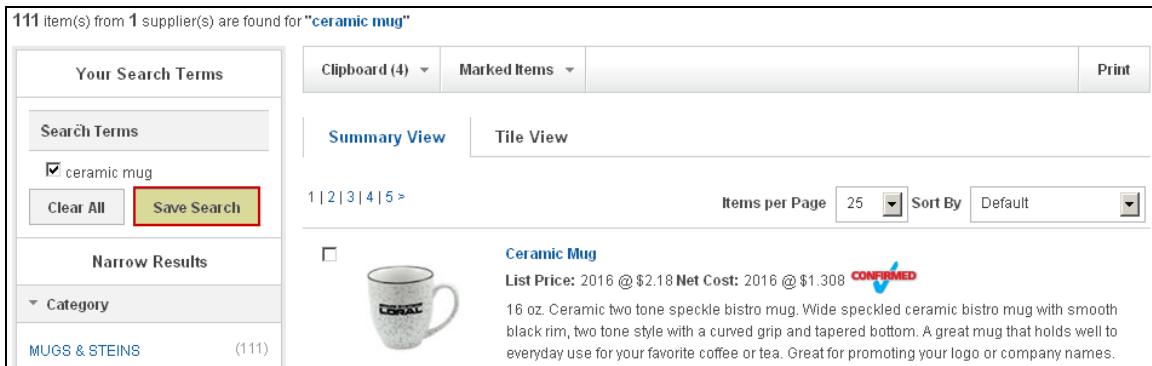

Select-A-Search

A Select-A-Search is essentially a search that is already done. For example, if you are a supplier of mugs, you can create a Select-A-Search devoted to just your ceramic mugs. This way, visitors to your site do not have to search for ceramic mugs; they can simply click on the link to view the available ceramic mugs.

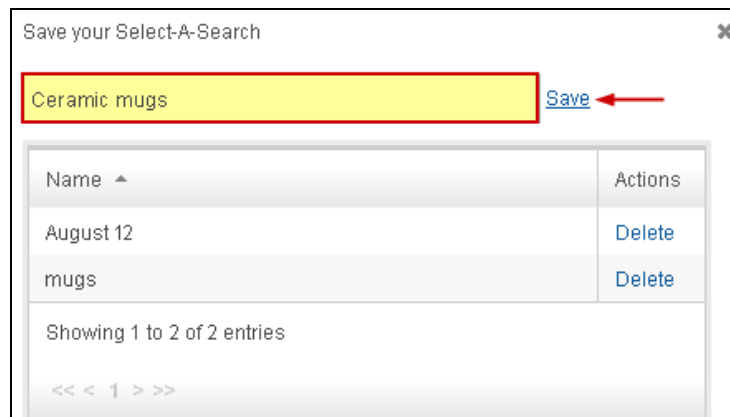

To create a Select-A-Search, click on the “Create New Select-A-Search” button in the Select-A-Searches area.

Do a search for products (ex: Automotive Items or Ceramic Mugs). Then, when you are satisfied with the search results, click on the Save Search button in the “Your Searched Terms” box.

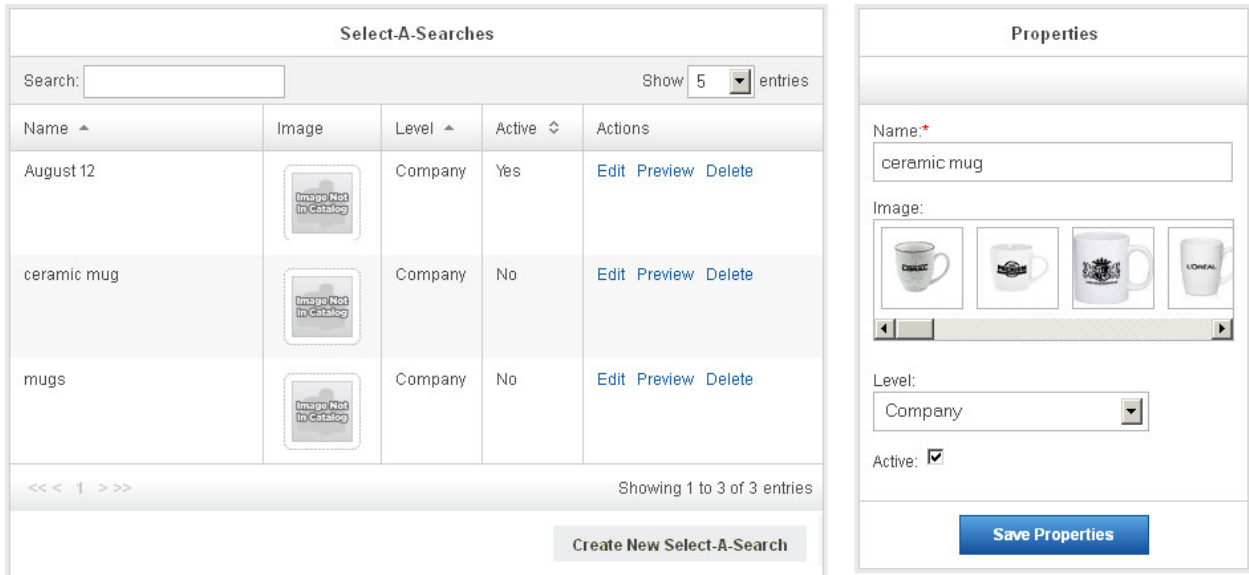

You will be prompted to name your Select-A-Search. Type a name in the box, then click on the Save link.

Now, you can continue to search, save and create Select-A-Searches. If you are ready to return to the Select-A-Searches area, click on the Return to [Features - Select-A-Searches] link.

Your newly created Select-A-Search(es) will now be added to the Select-A-Searches area.

In the Select-A-Searches area, you can edit, preview and delete your Select-A-Searches. Clicking on the Edit link will open the Select-A-Search in an editable state on the right, in the Properties area. In the Properties section, you can edit the name of the Select-A-Search by typing in the Name box. You can also click on any image in the Image area to designate a default image for this Select-A-Search.

Then, you will want to check this Select-A-Search as active so it can be added to pages and/or site navigation. For more information on how to add a Select-A-Search to your site navigation, please review Chapter 5 – Design Studio, Site Navigation or Chapter 5 – Design Studio, Advanced Design - Site Navigation.

*Required

To add information into a field in the Product Attributes, General Information, Imprinting Information or Packaging/Shipping areas, you will need to click on the “Add” link below the feature you wish to include. In the example below, there is an imprint size. The imprint size was added by clicking on the “Add Imprint Size” link and then selecting the values from the dropdown available. As you can see, sizes are available in both fractional and decimal. Some fields will enable you to add details about the value. In the example below, the detail for each imprint size indicates where it will be added on the product.

You can also add a secondary value (dependency) to the main value. For example, if you need to add an imprint charge, it must be dependent on another value. Therefore, to add an imprint charge, you will first need to add another field, like imprint method. Add the imprint method first and then click on the icon to add a secondary value (dependency).

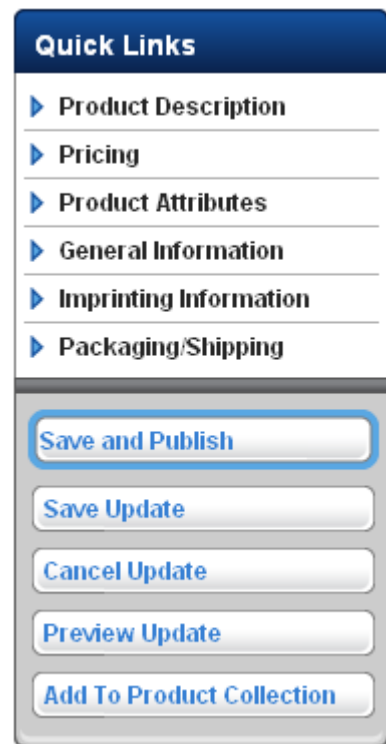

You can also add pricing to the value (for example, different prices for different sizes) or you can use the X to delete the value.

The Quick Link menu is located to the left of the product editing area. You can click on any of the Quick Links at any time to be brought directly to that section of the product. After entering all of information for your product, click on the Save Update button to save your changes. “Save Update” will only save work and not publish to your site.

If you are ready to publish (make your product live on your site), you can click on the Save and Publish button. After publishing, the product will need to go through an overnight data load. It will not appear until the next day. If you have created a custom product, please refrain from editing it until the next day.

You can cancel the update at any time by clicking on the “Cancel Update” button. If you click on “Cancel Update”, none of your changes will be saved. The “Preview Update” button will display your product as customers will see it. You can use the “Add To Product Collection” button to make this product active in a Product Collection. After saving the product, it will be available in the Custom Products area.

To duplicate a custom product, use the dropdown next to the “Edit” link, select “Copy”. To delete a custom product, use the same dropdown and select “Delete”.

Next, enable deposits and add a dollar amount or percentage in the deposit field.

Lastly, select which credit cards you accept and enter or paste in your PromoPayment Security Key.

If you wish to use PayPal™, you can select “PayPal” as the type of payment and then enter your PayPal™ Account ID.
