MATLAB & Simulink Raspberry Pi Development Kit - Student Edition

MATLAB® Support Package for Raspberry Pi Hardware, you can access peripheral devices through the Raspberry Pi. This support allows you to acquire data from sensors and imaging devices connected to the Raspberry Pi. Specifically, a library of MATLAB functions are provided for the following Raspberry Pi add-ons and interfaces:

- Raspberry Pi Camera Board
- I2C interface
- SPI interface
- Serial interface
- GPIO

Students can use MATLAB to acquire data from connected devices, and then they can analyse and visualize their data in MATLAB.

When connected to MATLAB and Simulink products, Raspberry Pi can help students and hobbyists understand concepts and workflows for designing an embedded system, without using hand programming. You start by using Simulink to create algorithms for audio processing, computer vision, and robotics applications. Then you can apply industry-proven techniques for Model-Based Design to verify that your algorithms work during simulation. Finally, you implement the algorithms as standalone applications on a Raspberry Pi.

Note: Available on 32-bit and 64-bit Microsoft® Windows® and 64-bit Mac OS X

Includes: Mathworks MatLab & Simulink Student Version License Key, Raspberry Pi 2 Model B, 8GB N00Bs MicroSD, UK/EU PSU 2A, Black Pi Case

Grove is a modulated, ready-to-use tool set. Much like Lego™, it takes a building block approach to assembling electronics. Compared with the traditional, complicated learning method of using a breadboard and various electronic components to assemble a project, Grove simplifies and condenses the learning process significantly.

The Grove system consists of a base shield and various modules with standardized connectors. The base shield allows for easy connection of any microprocessor input or output from the Grove modules, and every Grove module addresses a single function, such as a simple button or a more complex heart rate sensor. Each one comes with clear documentation and demo code to help you get started quickly.

Make: More Electronics

Charles Platt

Want to learn even more about electronics in a fun, hands-on way? If you finished the projects in Make: Electronics, or if you're already familiar with the material in that book, you're ready for Make: More Electronics. Right away, you'll start working on real projects, and you'll explore all the key components and essential principles through the book's collection of experiments. You'll build the circuits first, then learn the theory behind them!

'Spikey' Surge Suppressor Plug

- The 'Spikey' surge suppressor plug is used for category A and B mains environments, providing transient surge protection to mains borne surges up to 6kV (potential current up to 3kA), thus rendering harmless potential damage to sensitive electrical equipment. The unit can also be used to protect other plugs on the same socket/power outlet in parallel.
- If the surge is above the rated protection figure, the surge protection circuit will be disconnected from the mains and the neon indicator lamp will go out. The plug will continue to provide power for uninterrupted operation, but it is important to replace the device as soon as possible.
- Use as a direct replacement for a standard plug
- Stylish, translucent design
- Made from durable polycarbonate
- Continues to provide power, even if protection has been overloaded
- Ideal protection for computers and telecommunication equipment

Countdown Switch

A countdown timer adaptor to improve safety, reduce energy bills and control the use of a wide range of mains connected appliances. The countdown switch does not require any setting up or programming and is different from ordinary timers that switch On/Off in a pre-set pattern. The adaptor accepts a standard 3-pin mains plug and will deliver power for a pre-set fixed time (5 minutes to 40 minutes), so even if an appliance is left plugged in and switched on, it will automatically be switched Off after the pre-set time has elapsed. Suitable for the home, commercial premises and workshops.

- Controls almost any mains connected appliance
- Adjustable countdown time both initially and when in use
- An illuminated display located on the front of the unit indicates the remaining time

The cables are not screened, so should not be run in close proximity to mains cabling to avoid interference.

Capacitance and ESR Meter

PEAK

Model: Atlas ESR60

- Measure capacitance and equivalent series resistance (ESR)
- Capable of in-circuit testing
- Polarity free, will connect any way round
- Protected against highly charged capacitors
- 1µF to 22 000µF range
- 0.01Ω ESR resolution
- 1.5% Accuracy

Measuring a capacitor's ESR is a great indicator of capacitor condition. The Atlas ESR offers instant results and can be used in-circuit so capacitors don't need to be removed. When testing out of circuit the meter will also show the capacitance, and can still be used on highly charged capacitors.

Screwdriver Bits - Extra Hard

The BiTorsion range of screwdriver bits work to absorb damaging peak loads and provides a considerable increase in tool life. Specially designed for fastening into wood. Under these conditions, a constant increase in torque is developed, which places an immense strain on the bit. The extra hardness, combined with the softer torque zone, provides improved wear and resistance.

Pi Lite - LED Matrix Display

The Pi Lite is a large LED matrix display for scrolling text and graphics. It's an easy plug in add on, so no soldering or special skills are required. The Pi Lite mixes the highly popular ArduinoT "Lots of LED's" shield by Jimmy Rogers with the world of the Raspberry Pi. Using standard serial communications (@9600bps), it's really simple to send text and graphics to the 126 LEDs. The matrix is powered from an ATmega328p processor which means all the processing of driving the 126 LED's is off loaded from the Pi's processor. This frees the Pi's processor and GPIO for other functions.

Features:

- On board ATmega328p
 - High quality gold plated PCB
 - 126 Red LEDs
 - Data is driven by the Pi serial UART
 - Runs at 5 volts off the Pi supply (49ma max)
 - Pre-built/Plug and Code
 - Ability to install 6 pin ISP or 6 pin FTDI Headers to the ATmega328P for firmware upgrades or your own sketches
 - ATmega328p analogue pins are broken onto standard holes
- Preloaded software, can be used out of the box to display the following:
- Scrolling Text (speed variable)
 - Bar Graph (vertical 14 bars)
 - VU Meter (horizontal 2 bars)
 - Frame buffer (for graphics and animation)
 - Individual Pixels (turn them on, off or toggle)
