JILT – Japanese Integrated Learning Tools User manual. (version 5.2

Prerequisite

A Java Virtual Machine is installed on your system. This manual refers to an Arch-linux system using java-7-openjdk and LibreOffice 4.2.5.2.

On some other system, I had trouble with the displaying of the icons.

Installing

Go on the LibreOffice extension page. Be sure to select the English langage. Click on the «Extensions» tab. Enter Jilt into the search field and click «Search». Jilt should appear. Click on its title to make the download page appear. Click on the link «Get Japanese Integrated Learning Tool for all plateform» and save the .oxt file.

Then open LibreOffice writer. In the «Tool» menu, choose «Manage extension». In the window that

If the program does terminal interaction, make it output a short notice like this when it starts in an interactive mode: <program> Copyright (C) <year> <name author="" of=""> This program comes with ABSOLUTELY NO WARRANTY; for details type `show w'. This is free software, and you are welcome to redistribute it under certain conditions; type `show c' for details. The hypothetical commands `show w' and `show c' should show the appropriate parts of the General Public License. Of course, your program's commands might be different; for a GUI interface, you would use an "about box". You should also get your employer (if you work as a programmer) or school, if any, to sign a "copyright disclaimer" for the program, if necessary. For more information on this, and how to apply and follow the GNU GPL, see <http: licenses="" www.gnu.org=""></http:>. The GNU General Public License does not permit incorporating your program into proprietary programs. If your program is a subroutine library, you may consider it more useful to permit linking proprietary applications with the library. If this is what you want to do, use the GNU Lesser General Public License instead of this License. But first, please read <http: philosophy="" why-not-lgpl.html="" www.gnu.org="">.</http:></name></year></program>

First of all – settings

In the top menu under JILT, click on word dictionary . The following dictionary dialog appears

Note : colors may be different

• Choose dictionary : check at least on dictionary Enam or Edict. Enam is for common names and Enam is for family or place names.

Open the Options menu in this dictionary dialog . You will get this

- Check « Keep this dialog always on top » if you don't want to see your dictionary disapear each time you click into an other window (higly recommanded).
- In addition to the toolbar you can also chose your dictionary here
- Check « Enable Titles in the result» if you want titles for the groups in the result area (take more room). Groups are for example, Words using this writting, other words sharing one of the found readings, Information about included kanji, Some othe expression starting with the entered text, Some verbs starting with the entered text.
- Check or Uncheck « Hide toolbars » depending on you preference.
- Use « Set fonts » to choose your font. Some text sample are displayed in the dialog box with the font family and the font size you selecet. Once Ok, save and keep the font.
- Use « Choose result area colors » to define the background and the text color in the result area. In the new dialog box that appears, to define the color of the text, prior to select a color click on the « Select text » button. In a similar way click on « Select background » prior to selecting the background color. A preview is provided in the color chooser dialog box.
- Click on « Number of element per group » to select the max number of element per group. Groups are for example, Words using this writting, other words sharing one of the found

Search from English

It is not the aim of the Edict dictionary to make reverse searches, but this gives all the Japanese words that have the English expression in their search result.

Splitting a text

Using the ... button on the left, you will be able to split a text in all the possible words it contains. This is usefull to beginners who have trouble finding the limit of words in a Japanese text.

Only partial results are presented on the picture.

Note : be patient. Depending on the lenght of the string, it can take a while.

Inserting as foot note, end note or in-text note

With these buttons A an B, you can insert, all the result area or only what is selected in it. If nothing is selected, all the result area is inserted.

Button A : insert as a note

(depending on the option you have chosen, it may be foot page note or end text note).

Button B : insert at the cursor's position in the main document.
