Introduction

We congratulate you on the acquisition of your Jaeger-LeCoultre watch, and thank you for your confidence.

As with all the Master Ultra Thin range, the design of this self-winding version is timeless.

Master Ultra Thin movements are proof positive that technique and sophistication, however complex, can still be easily accommodated in confined spaces.

We invite you to consult the operating instructions and hope your Jaeger-LeCoultre timepiece brings you great enjoyment.

Accuracy

Mechanical manually-wound or automatic watches

The precision of watch models with mechanical movements is determined by the balance. The latter oscillates at a rate of 21,600 or 28,800 vibrations per hours depending on model (see technical specifications for individual models).

Despite all the care that the master-watchmakers of the Jaeger-LeCoultre Manufacture have lavished on building and assembling your watch, its accuracy is subject to the influence of gravity, magnetic fields, impacts, as well as ageing of the oils. The precision of a watch is measured by its regularity of rate in various positions.

Your individual temperament and your activities may result in slight irregularities. If you observe a discrepancy in the running of your watch, we advise you to entrust it to an authorised Jaeger-LeCoultre retailer who will perform the necessary adjustments.

Water-resistance

Your Jaeger-LeCoultre watch is water-resistant to 5 bar/atm. The water-resistance of your watch is identifiable by the  symbol engraved on the back. This means that your timepiece has been tested at an immersion pressure corresponding to 50 metres, according to the number of atmospheres appearing next to the above-mentioned symbol (1 bar/atm = approx. 10 metres).

In accordance with the ISO 22810/NIHS 92-20 standard, in order to guarantee the durability of the watch's characteristics over time and as the water-resistant sealant may be affected by certain activities, it is recommended that the user:

- have the water-resistance of the watch checked by an authorised Jaeger-LeCoultre dealer, in accordance with the recommendations of the Jaeger-LeCoultre Manufacture and at any event after each opening of the case, in which case it is recommended that the test be carried out with increased air pressure,
- check when making the purchase that the bracelet is suitable for the intended use,
- avoid subjecting the watch to excessively abrupt temperature changes,
- protect the watch from being dropped or suffering other shocks (having the watch checked after any violent impact),
- avoid the use of the controls, push-piece or time-setting crown while under water or before the watch has dried after immersion,
- be sure to restore the time-setting crown and the push-pieces to their normal position (or, where applicable, close the compression key) after every manipulation,
- rinse the watch with fresh water after use in sea-water.

You may use your watch during short swims, and when jumping in from the edge of a swimming pool but not from a diving board. Your watch must not be used for scuba diving, nor for sports involving significant risk of impact, such as windsurfing or water-skiing. Also note that leather straps are not suited to aquatic activities.

Furthermore, it is vital to have the water-resistance of your watch checked by an authorised Jaeger-LeCoultre dealer at least once every two years and, in all cases, before any period during which it is liable to undergo prolonged and/or regular immersions.

“1000 Hours Control” test

Jaeger-LeCoultre submits all its watches to the stringent “1000 Hours Control”, a unique battery of comprehensive and rigorous tests lasting a full 1000 hours.

The “1000 Hours Control” seal or legend placed or engraved on the back of your watch certifies that the latter has undergone this programme of observation in our laboratories and has successfully passed all the tests relating to regularity of rate, temperature, atmospheric pressure, resistance to shocks and magnetic fields, as well as water-resistance trials. Your watch is thus capable of withstanding the daily stresses and strains that await it when worn on your wrist.

The criteria of the “1000 Hours Control” programme considerably exceed the standards of official timing tests, which deal only with part of the movement. Jaeger-LeCoultre tests not only the movement prior to its being cased up in the watch, but also the watch as a whole.

Technical specifications

- Mechanical self-winding movement, ultra-thin, Calibre 925.
- 28,800 vibrations/hour.
- Power reserve: approximately 43 hours.

Movement

Jaeger-LeCoultre Calibre 925.

Use

Winding

Crown in position 1

A few clockwise turns of the crown will suffice to start the watch. It will then automatically wind up when you wear it. Please note that the crown does not lock when winding, even when the watch is fully wound.

Setting the time

Pull the crown out to position 2.

The movement is then locked (“stop seconds” function).

For an accurate time setting in seconds, stop the seconds hand at 12 o'clock.

Move the hands clockwise until the desired time is displayed.

On the hour signal, push the crown back in to position 1. The watch starts running again.

Setting the moon phase

The Master Moon watch has a moon phase display. It is corrected using the corrector at 8 o'clock, which allows the disc to jump forward by one-day. Use the corrector provided as follows:

Each press moves the disc one day forward. In order to correct the moon phases accurately, calculate the number of days that have elapsed since the last full moon using the calendar at the end of this user manual and, using the corrector provided, centre the moon in the aperture, then move the disc forwards according to the number of days that have elapsed since the last full moon.

Setting the date

The Master Moon watch has a date display. It is corrected using the corrector at 4 o'clock, which allows the disc to jump forward by one day.
