

Can I Customize the Results Page?

Yes, that's part of the new options offered by 'CIS-Net powered by FastTrack'. The so-called 'User Profile' option allows you to display results based on your preferences.

Where do I Find this Option and How does it Work?

First of all be advised this option is available from MWI only. It's located in the search menu frame, under Quick search/Standard search options.

Each field or group of fields can be selected/unselected depending on your business needs. Once the form is completed and saved it can also be saved as your user preference ('save pref' checkbox), meaning the same fields will be available during your current session and every time you log on to CIS-Net. Your profile can be amended as often as you need to change your own results view.

When you first select the User Profile option you will notice that all the fields are selected. You can de-select all the fields by choosing the Select All option. To select a field for display click the checkbox next to that field.

You also have the possibility to select/unselect a group of fields concerning

- Interested Party details
- Performers details
- Other Titles details
- Work information details Work derivation details
- Instrumentation details
- Conflict details
- Submissions details

To select an entire group of fields click the checkbox next to the heading for that group (e.g. click the box next to Work Information to include all the fields that are associated with Work Information).

Once you have selected the fields you would like to see displayed, click on 'Save' button to save your options.

If you wish to cancel your options during the process you can:

- click on 'Cancel' button, or
- click on the grey part next to the screen,
- or use 'Esc' key of your keyboard

What are the Advantages of Using this Option? Why Should I Use this Facility?

Creating a user profile will ensure you display the work details that are most relevant to your task. This will allow you to focus on what you're looking for and you'll avoid spending time on result screens with unnecessary details for your operations.
