Self Closing Cover

The Paralda is equipped with a unique self-closing cover. To use, begin closing the cover and then stop pressing. The unit will automatically close completely, by itself.

Cable Management System

The underside of the Paralda was designed specifically to neatly hold any excess cabling. Simply wrap any unused portion of the cord under the unit and use the side cut out to feed the desired amount of cord out from under the unit.

Using the Night Light

The Night Light on the front of the Paralda will be illuminated the first time you turn your unit on. The Night Light can easily be turned off and back on with the “Light” button on the control panel. The Paralda will remember your selection. If the night Light is turned off when the Paralda is turned off, it will remain off the next time the unit is turned on and vice versa.

About the Ionizer

The ionizer charges particles as they pass through the unit, causing them to stick to each other and become larger in size. Larger particles settle out of the air quicker, and are easier for the filter to capture the next time they pass through the unit. Alen Ionizers are Ozone-Safe, certified by the California Air Resources Board. This feature can be turned on and off with the “Ion” button on the control panel.

CARE AND MAINTENANCE

The filters used in all of Alen Air Purifiers are not designed to be washed, cleaned or otherwise reused. Over time, the filters become overloaded with particles, decreasing their filtration performance. We recommend regular filter replacements (at least every 6 months with normal use) to extend the life of your air purifier and maximize performance.

Why You Should Replace Your Filter

- Fulfills the terms of Alen’s Lifetime Limited Warranty which clearly states that the filters are required to be changed on a regular basis in order to prevent excessive stress on the unit.
- You have bought an Alen Air Purifier to improve the quality of your indoor air. Changing your filters will maintain the level of air quality you require. Excessively dirty filters can compromise the level of clean air your air purifier can provide.
