

SUN SHIELD USER'S MANUAL

Thank you for purchasing the Square Jellyfish Sun Shield. This product is designed to shade the screen of a smartphone while taking a photo. By cutting down reflective glare, the Sun Shield makes the screen easier to see even in broad daylight. The Sun Shield can also provide screen viewing privacy by blocking the view of others nearby.

Attaching your Sun Shield

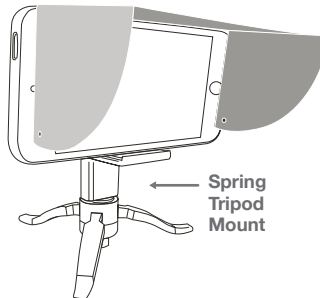

There is no right or wrong way to attach the shield so let experimentation be your guide. Here are two examples:

- While holding the folded shield at a 90-degree angle to the screen of your phone, tuck the tab of the Sun Shield under the long edge of your smartphone bumper or case. The tab may protrude out the back side of your bumper, or if necessary, use scissors to remove the folding portion of the tab so that it will fit inside the case. Pull the side flaps of the shield down forming 90 degree angles.

With smartphone bumper or case

- While holding the folded shield at a 90-degree angle to the screen of your phone, place the tab of the Sun Shield on top of the long edge of your smartphone (with or without case) and fold the edge of the tab down toward the back. Attach a Square Jellyfish Spring Tripod Mount to your phone securing the tab in place. Pull the side flaps down forming 90 degree angles.

Storing your Sun Shield

Because the Square Jellyfish Sun Shield is flat and flexible, it can easily be stored in your wallet. It also neatly stows in phone cases behind larger phones such as the Samsung Note.

Repairing your Sun Shield

The Sun Shield is made of durable plastic and can be used countless times. Should you feel the hinge is becoming weak, simply reinforce the hinge with a small piece of tape.
