

BlackBerry user guide for Japanese Character Input

Features and specifications

- Supports Japanese Character Input for SMS, messages, address book, calendar, tasks, MemoPad, browser
- Supports input of Hiragana (平仮名), Katakana (片仮名) (full width and half width), Kanji (漢字) and Japanese punctuation.
- The Japanese character input method is via Romaji (ie romanization of Japanese by use of the Latin alphabet called Rōmaji (ローマ字, rōmaji) in Japanese).
- > The Japanese Kana will be encoded in unicode.

Note

- User must have the Asian language package installed with Japanese fonts.
- Only supports BlackBerry 8700g and 8707g models.

The activation key is a combination of 32 digit-characters comprising 0-9 and a-f. Enter the key accurately (or paste the code if you copy from the SMS) and push the "enter" button. If the activation key is entered accurately, you will be able to use Japanese language support function freely. Once you enter the activation key, you will not be asked for it again.

Note: Since the activation code is long, you can use the copy-and-paste feature by clicking the trackwheel and selecting "paste".
