Getting Started

Creating Your Account

Once you navigate to AllPlayers.com site in your web browser, the first thing you are prompted to do is create an account. Registration is free and takes less than a minute to complete.

To read our Children's Privacy Policy, click on the COPPA Privacy Policy link. When you are ready, fill in your information on the home page and click Create new account. The math problem is not to test you. It is just there to make sure that you aren't a web robot or machine!

The screenshot shows the AllPlayers.com website with a sign-up form. The header includes a navigation bar with 'Home', 'Benefits To You', and 'How It Works'. The main content area features a large blue silhouette of a soccer player kicking a ball, with the text 'For all of life's players.' below it. To the right, the 'Sign Up It's Free!' section contains a registration form with fields for First Name, Last Name, Birthday, Gender, Title, E-mail, and Password. A math problem '5 + 13 =' is displayed for verification. Below the form is a 'Create new account' button. At the bottom, there are three boxes: 'Watch a Video.', 'Who's It For?', and 'Am I Safe?'. The footer contains the AllPlayers.com logo, a COPPA Compliant badge, and links for 'About Us', 'Resources', 'Support', and 'Merchant Services'.

Navigating AllPlayers.com

There are common elements that appear on most pages. Getting familiar with these will help you navigate the entire site.

At the top left of most pages, you will see Welcome and links to:

- Your login name – this takes you to a view of your profile
- Log-out –logs you out of the system

Feedback

You are able to leave the AllPlayers.com customer service team feedback on any page in the site. Click the [+] Feedback link on the lower right side of every page to leave your feedback or comments. Type your message and click Send. We encourage you to send as much feedback as you want. Your comments really help us make improvements to our site.

Required Fields

Whenever you see an asterisk, you must fill in the information for that field in order to submit information on that page. You will not be able to proceed without doing this. This will probably be obvious because you will be reminded if it has not been filled in, but we wanted to warn you in advance.

Main Navigation Bar

The main navigation bar is the blue bar across the top of each page that shows the main sections of AllPlayers.com. Click on a header to go to that section (See the Main Navigation Bar Chapter for more details):

- Profile-Clicking this header takes you to your personal profile.
- Messages- From the dropdown menu, you can click on Sent (view your sent messages), Compose (Write a new private message to send), Inbox (view received messages), Broadcast (create a message to send out to multiple users/groups).
- Calendar-Clicking this header will direct you to your personal calendar.
- People- After clicking on People in the header, you have the option to show Friends (friends in the allplayers.com system), Group Mates (anyone in your group), and Find (allows you to find people).
- Groups-Clicking this header allows you to find, create, or view groups.

- Search-You can see the groups advertising within AllPlayers.com by clicking on the Search icon, and then refining your search using the various filters.

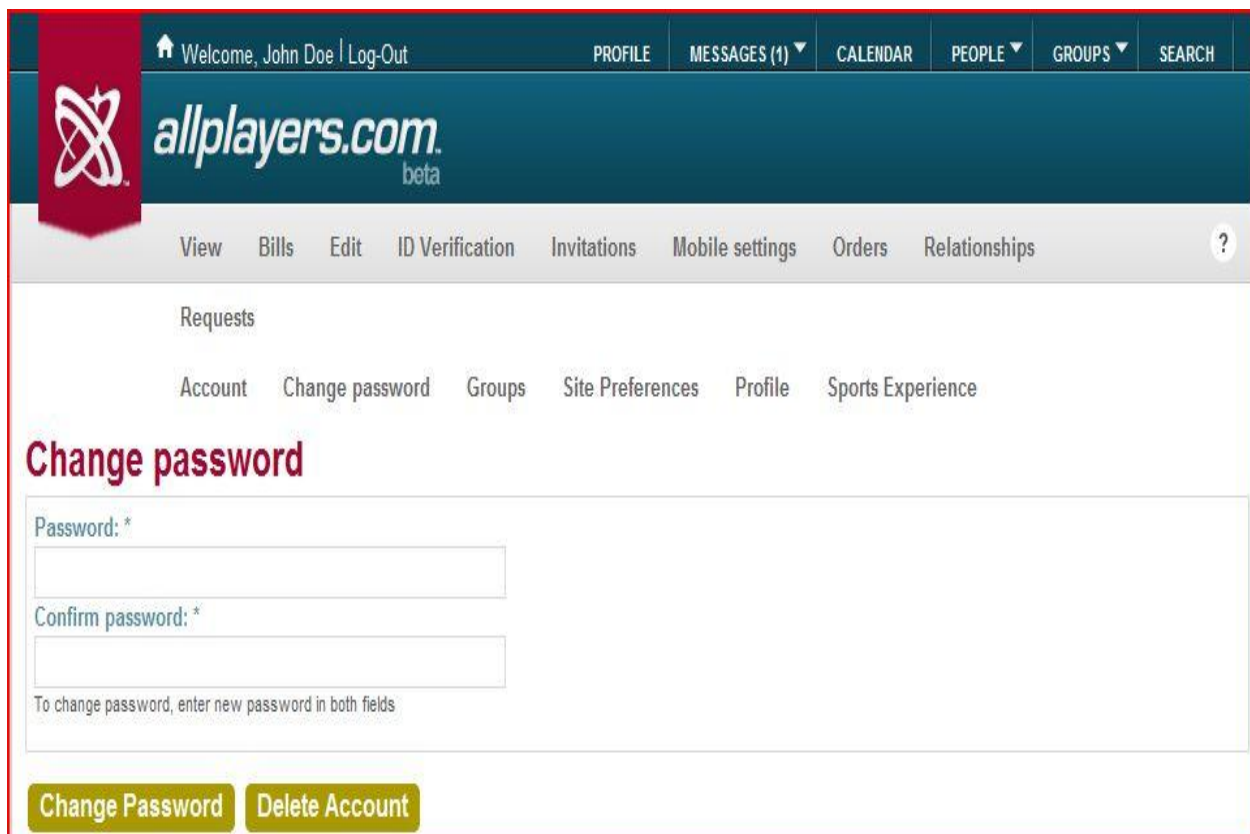

Navigation Conventions for this Manual

Throughout this manual you will see the path to navigate as explained below.

Profile>Edit>Change Password takes you to the section where you can change your privacy settings.

To get to this page:

- click Profile on the navigation bar
- then click the Edit tab
- then click Change password

The screenshot displays the AllPlayers.com website interface. At the top, a dark blue navigation bar contains the user's name 'Welcome, John Doe | Log-Out', a 'PROFILE' link, and dropdown menus for 'MESSAGES (1)', 'CALENDAR', 'PEOPLE', 'GROUPS', and a 'SEARCH' button. Below this is a red banner with the AllPlayers.com logo and the word 'beta'. A light gray sub-navigation bar lists various options: 'View', 'Bills', 'Edit', 'ID Verification', 'Invitations', 'Mobile settings', 'Orders', 'Relationships', and a help icon. Below the sub-navigation bar, a 'Requests' section is visible. The main content area features a 'Change password' heading in red. Underneath, there are two input fields: 'Password: *' and 'Confirm password: *'. A note below the fields states: 'To change password, enter new password in both fields'. At the bottom of the form, there are two buttons: 'Change Password' and 'Delete Account'.

Throughout the rest of this manual, you will be directed to sections to navigate to using this convention – links separated by the “>” character.

Panels

Panels are components of a page. They are defined in this way because they may show up with the same functionality on different pages. Depending on the page and its context, you may or may not see them. For example, you are not shown the Unpaid Registrations panel if you do not have any unpaid registrations. There are four panels on the page below:

- Notifications
- My Groups
- My Children
- Recent Activity

The screenshot displays the AllPlayers.com website interface. At the top, a navigation bar includes a home icon, the text "Welcome, John Doe | Log-Out", and links for "PROFILE", "MESSAGES (1)", "CALENDAR", "PEOPLE", "GROUPS", and "SEARCH". Below this is a dark blue header with the AllPlayers.com logo and the word "beta". A secondary navigation bar contains "Home", "Benefits To You", and "How It Works". The main content area is divided into four panels: "Notifications" (showing "New message"), "My Groups" (listing "255 Groups" and "See all groups" with links to "Triple Play", "Youth Baseball", "Homework Club", "Acme Club", and "Dallas Police Athletic League"), "My Children" (showing "Add a child" and listing "Jimmy Doe" and "Jennifer Doe"), and "Recent activity" (showing a photo of a baseball game with the caption "Fun Times John and Lucas - 4 photos" and a comment from "Sandy Butler" about carpooling to practice, followed by a comment from "Shawn Harrison" and another from "Sandy Butler" about picking up kids from school, and a comment from "Karen Carls" about practicing early, and a comment from "Frank Reynolds" about going to a baseball game tonight).

Setting Up Your Profile

Now that you have an account, you can fill in the rest of your user profile. Your profile makes it possible to customize your AllPlayers.com site experience to fit your needs. What you select in this section determines how you want your Profile main page (Profile>View) to appear and function.

The more complete you are in filling in all the fields, the more the system can help you as your information will be used as defaults throughout the site.

Account

(Profile>Edit>Account)

Here's what you can do in the account section of your profile:

- Change your email address
- Select a picture from your computer or icon from the list to display on your Profile page
- Choose your default time zone
- Indicate whether you want to keep your site activity from appearing in the activity pages
- Indicate whether you want to receive email notifications when you receive new private messages

Click Save to keep this information.

Deleting Your Account

(Profile>Edit>Account)

Scroll down to the end of this page and click Delete. You may then choose from:

- Disable the account and keep all content
- Disable the account and un-publish all content
- Delete the account and make all content belong to the Anonymous user
- Delete the account and all content

If you decide that you don't want to delete your account, click Cancel.

Change Password

(Profile>Edit>Change password)

To change your current AllPlayers.com password, you can enter a new password here and click Change Password.

Groups

(Profile>Edit>Groups)

Note: This function description will be added later.

Site Preferences

(Profile>Edit>Site Preferences)

Settings

Here you can choose to enable or disable social networking features. For example, if you are a parent, you may choose to disable the ability of your child to post messages that other people can see or the ability to upload pictures into albums. This is a preference and the default is set to Enabled. The settings include:

- Send Messages - determines your ability to send messages to other users
- Ticker Post - post messages to the ticker. The ticker is the message list posted on your home page
- Friends - determines your ability to send and approve friend requests
- Photo Albums - determines your ability to upload photos into albums

Privacy

Here you can decide the level of interaction you wish to have on the site by selecting one of the following: Friends, My Fans, Everyone or Nobody.

- Friends – this includes only people who I have selected (from the list above) can see the people that I am friends with
 - A friend is someone that you know and knows you
 - To be friends with someone, both people must confirm the request
 - Fans are people who are supporters of a team, organization, league or player
- Profile - only people who I have selected from the list above can see my profile page
- Access Avatar - only people who I have selected from the list above can see my avatar or more commonly known as a profile picture.
- Photo albums - only people who I have selected from the list above can see my photo albums

Profile (personal information)

(Profile>Edit>Profile)

Your name, gender and birthday are already shown from when you created the account or last edited it.

You can fill in the following areas.

- Personal Information
- Bio Data – for example height, gender, birthday, and shirt size
- Emergency Contact Information
- Emergency Address
- Primary Address

Underneath Emergency Address and above Primary Address, you can select who will be able to view the profile page of this account. Select Accessible by from the dropdown field to make your selection:

- Friends – people that you designate as your friends
- Everybody – everybody on the AllPlayers.com site
- Nobody – no one besides you can view your profile page

When you are done, click Save.

Sports Experience

(Profile>Edit>Sports Experience)

If you have sports experience, enter it here. Under Sports Experience, click Add sports experience.

From the dropdown menus, make your selections:

- Sport - select your sport
- Skill level – indicate your skill level for your sport by clicking on the stars
 - Pick 1 if you've never played before and 10 if you are a pro
- Years played
- Seasons played
- Enter Preferred Number
- Enter Preferred Position

When you are done, click Save.

View Your Profile Summary

(Profile>View)

This is your public personal page as it is viewable to others. For example, if a friend clicks on your name, they will be directed to this page. It has many of the same elements as the Home page, but the look and layout is customizable based on your Profile settings.

Elements of this page include (and are mostly duplicated in your home page after setup):

- Your profile photo
- Children
- Friends
- Group Mates
- Photos
- Status – you can type in 200 characters and click share. This is a home page status posting and depending upon your profile settings; this can show up in your friend's Home page under the Recent Activity panel.

- Your Profile Panel – this allows for automatic listing of certain activity items, for example if you are a group manager and you make updates to a group, team, division, league, etc. a message will appear in this section indicating the update.
 - Comment – you can insert a comment to any item in this list by clicking the Comment link next to the ticker entry.
 - Delete activity record- you will see a little yellow x to the right of the comment link. Clicking the X deletes the activity comment.
 - Photos – if you have posted photos, they will appear in this section and enable you or others to make comments.

ID Verification

(Profile>ID Verification)

One of the ways AllPlayers.com creates a safe environment for children is to verify the identity of someone who registered as their parent. Once verified through approved COPPA verification methods, the child account is release from “hold” status and the parent then has complete control over a child’s account. This approach prevents children under 13 from accessing the site, gives the parent governing rights over their children once verified, and prevents personal identifiable information from being posted without the parent’s verifiable consent.

Invitations

(Profile>Invitations)

This is where you can invite other people to join AllPlayers.com. You can click on the following links for specific information.

- Accepted - The invitations shown on this page have been used to join the site. Clicking on an email address takes you to the user's profile page.
- Pending - The invitations shown on this page haven't been accepted yet.
- Expired – The invitations shown on this page have not been used to register on the site within the expiration period of 30 days.
- New invitation – you can send an email to others to join AllPlayers.com

Mobile Settings

(Profile>Mobile Settings)

Mobile Notifications are currently in Beta Testing. Access to this feature will arrive soon.

Orders

(Profile>Orders)

This is where you can see the items that you have ordered, for example if you pay for a league registration. You can and sort the orders by date, order #, status, products and total amount by clicking in the respective column header. Clicking in the column header that is currently sorted will reverse the direction or the sorting.

Relationships

(Profile>Relationships)

If your parents have an AllPlayers.com account, they will show up here. You can click on their name to view their profile. Also, you can invite your other parent or guardian by clicking Invite your Parents. This enables you to send an email to invite them to the site.

Requests

(Profile>Requests)

When someone on AllPlayers.com has requested that you become friends, you will see a request here.

- To add the friend, click Confirm
- See message "You are now friends with (person's name)"
- You can click on the person's name to view their profile
- To not add the person as a friend, click Ignore

Home Page

The Home page is the central place that shows the information that you want to see and have customized in your profile. You will see panels of information that are described below. Click on the AllPlayers.com symbol in the top left of the page to view the Home Page.

Status Alerts

Each time that you first login, you may see a small box pop up that says Status. This appears:

- If you have unread messages
- If your account has been updated
- If you have a new friend request
- For other times when AllPlayers.com or other people need to get in touch with you

In this picture, the alert shows how many unread messages you have. To read and respond to the messages, click on the corresponding link.

The screenshot shows the AllPlayers.com website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the user's name 'Welcome, Sandy Butler | Log-Out' and links for 'PROFILE', 'MESSAGES (6)', 'CALENDAR', 'PEOPLE', 'GROUPS', and 'SEARCH'. Below this is a header with the 'allplayers.com' logo and a 'beta' tag. The main content area is divided into several sections: 'Notifications', 'Unpaid Registrations', 'My Groups', and 'My Children'. A modal alert box is open over the 'Unpaid Registrations' section, displaying a green status bar with a pencil icon and the text 'You have 6 unread messages'. The alert also has a 'CLOSE' button with an 'X' icon. The 'Unpaid Registrations' section contains a table with columns: Name, League, Division, Fee, and Status. The table lists three entries: 'Sandy Butler' (Acme Division One, $15, unpaid), 'Grant Butler' (Recreation, Coed Class C/D, $360, unpaid), and 'Grant Butler' (Pull Your Own Weight: Chicago, Pull Your Own Weight Level 1: 20 Inches, unpaid). Below the table is a 'Pay Now' button. The 'My Groups' section shows a list of groups: 'Triple Play', 'Turbo', 'South Park Baseball', 'Downhill Skiing', and 'Teton Ski League'. The 'My Children' section has an 'Add a child' button. The 'Recent activity' section shows a post by 'John Doe' with the text 'added new photos' and a 'Comment' link.

Name	League	Division	Fee	Status
Sandy Butler	Acme Division One		$15	unpaid
Grant Butler	Recreation	Coed Class C/D	$360	unpaid
Grant Butler	Pull Your Own Weight: Chicago	Pull Your Own Weight Level 1: 20 Inches		unpaid

Notifications Panel

This panel will only show up if you have:

- New message(s) and Friend request(s) - To read your messages, click the link to read the messages. This takes you to Inbox. To see who wants to be your friend, click # friend(s) request. This takes you to Profile>Requests.
- Invitation(s) to join a group – by clicking on the link, you are agreeing to join the group. You are taken to the new group's Home Page where you see a green status box saying "You are now a member of Example Group".

My Groups Panel

This panel shows your group information.

This screen shot shows that the user is a member of twenty two groups (see the Groups chapter).

The main content area is divided into several sections:

- Notifications: A blue header with a right-pointing arrow. Below it, a box indicates "New messages".
- My Groups: A blue header with a right-pointing arrow. Below it, a box shows "22 Groups See all groups" and a list of group names: Triple Play, Turbo, South Park Baseball, Downhill Skiing, and Teton Ski League.
- Unpaid Registrations: A red header with a right-pointing arrow. Below it, a message states: "You have registered for leagues but have not yet been marked as paid. You can pay now by clicking the button below." This is followed by a table of unpaid registrations.
- Pay Now: A yellow button with black text.
- Recent activity: A red header with a right-pointing arrow.

Name	League	Division	Fee	Status
Sandy Butler	Acme League	Acme Division One	$15	unpaid
Sandy Butler	Dallas Parks and Recreation	Coed Class C/D	$360	unpaid
Sandra Butler	Pull Your Own Weight: Chicago Elementary School	Pull Your Own Weight Level 1: 20 Inches		unpaid
Grant Butler	Pull Your Own Weight: Chicago Elementary School	Pull Your Own Weight Level 1: 20 Inches		unpaid

Find a Group

If you are not registered for a group, click the GROUPS tab at the top of the page, then click the FIND GROUPS button. Then you can search for a group by name, category, postal code, distance, and registration status

Existing Group Member

If you are already a member of a group, click on the group name displayed to see the group details. (see the Navigating Groups section)

My Children Panel

If you want to add a child click Add a child. This takes you to the add a child to my account page. You will see the list of children you have added. You may click one to view their profile. To see a complete description of adding an account for your child, see the chapter about Children.

Friends Panel

This panel shows the people you've selected to be your friend. See the Friends chapter to find out more about how you can manage your friends.

Respond to a Friend Request

If someone has requested that you be their friend, you will see this on your home page, under the Notifications panel. Click the # friend request.

This takes you to Profile>Requests. You can see who wants to be your friend along with a message. Click Confirm if you are ready to be this person's friend or Ignore if you would rather not.

Group Mates Panel

This panel will only appear if you are a member of a group. Here you can see who else is in your group. You see their profile photo if they selected one next to the group mate's name.

- If you click the group mate's name, you will go to their profile page.

- You can also click the People tab, then the Group Mates button. This takes you to a new page where all of your group mates are listed.

Photos Panel

AllPlayers.com allows you to post pictures and arrange them into albums. This is a great way to share photos of teams, games, celebrations, kids or anything else you want your friends to see. See the Photos chapter to find out more about how you can manage your photos and albums.

Find Your Group

To find a group, click on the GROUPS tab at the top of the page, then click the FIND GROUPS button. This option is there to facilitate finding a group for you. You can find activities by entering as much or as little information you'd like to see from the list below and then click Apply:

- Organization name
- Category
- Postal code
- Distance
- Registration status

If you don't see your group, you can also click CREATE GROUP to create your own group (see CREATE GROUP chapter for more details).

Unpaid Registrations Panel

Home Page Panel

You are reminded to pay for group fees when they are unpaid and presented a way to pay now. This won't be displayed if it does not apply. You can see registration information - person's name, Group, Fee and Status. To pay, click Pay Now.

The screenshot shows the AllPlayers.com website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for PROFILE, MESSAGES (6), CALENDAR, PEOPLE, GROUPS, and SEARCH. Below this is a header with the AllPlayers.com logo and a 'beta' tag. A secondary navigation bar includes links for Home, Benefits To You, and How It Works. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column contains a 'Notifications' section with a 'New messages' link and a 'My Groups' section listing 22 groups with a 'See all groups' link. The right column features a 'Unpaid Registrations' section with a message stating: 'You have registered for leagues but have not yet been marked as paid. You can pay now by clicking the button below.' Below this message is a table of unpaid registrations. The table has columns for Name, League, Division, Fee, and Status. There are four rows of data. A 'Pay Now' button is located at the bottom of the table.

Name	League	Division	Fee	Status
Sandy Butler	Acme League	Acme Division One	$15	unpaid
Sandy Butler	Dallas Parks and Recreation	Coed Class C/D	$360	unpaid
Sandra Butler	Pull Your Own Weight: Chicago Elementary School	Pull Your Own Weight Level 1: 20 Inches		unpaid
Grant Butler	Pull Your Own Weight: Chicago Elementary School	Pull Your Own Weight Level 1: 20 Inches		unpaid

Shopping Cart

You then see your Shopping Cart, with a Status message confirming the contents of the cart. You will see:

- Remove – this removes products from your cart. Simply click the box next to the item you wish to remove and click Update cart.
- Products – this shows the details of the items in your cart – (if you have children, their names can appear here for registrations)
- Qty. – this is the quantity
- Total – this is the total amount due per product

Click Checkout to continue or Update cart

Your order is almost complete. You will see all your order information. If it all looks correct, click Submit order. You may click Back to make changes to your order if necessary.

Order complete

Your order is complete! Your order number will be shown. You can view your current order status and order history by viewing your orders (Profile>Orders). You can click the link return to the front page to go to your Home page.

Recent Activity Panel

This shows the activity stream on your Home page. It allows you to see what people are doing right now and to see ticker entries and notifications from your friends regarding:

- Status updates - such as new friends added
- Image uploads from your friends photo albums
- Updates of certain activity items - for example if you are a group manager and you make updates to a group, team, division, league, etc. a message will appear in this section indicating the update.

You can comment on each ticker entry. Click Comment to show the box and to type your response. Click Comment to post the comment. If you click on your friend's name you will be taken to their profile page.

- Comment – you can insert a comment to any item in this list by clicking the Comment link next to the ticker entry.
- Photos – if your friends have posted photos, they will appear in this section and enable you to make comments.

Calendar Panel

After clicking the More link under the Calendar panel, you can filter what you would like to see on the calendar by selecting one of the fields under Category:

- Game
- Practice
- Scrimmage
- Meeting
- Party
- Other

Notice the Calendar Legend which color codes each event type listed above for easy viewing.

You can also filter the groups you would like to see on the calendar by selecting a group from under the Groups field.

You can also get to your calendar by clicking the calendar heading at the top of the page.

Main Navigation Bar

The main navigation bar is the blue bar across the top of each page that shows the main sections of AllPlayers.com. Click on a header to go to that section.

Search

You can see the groups advertising within AllPlayers.com by clicking on the Search icon, and then refining your search using the various filters. To register for a group, click the register button and you will be prompted to fill out the necessary information.

Profile

Clicking this header takes you to your personal profile.

Messages

It is important to communicate with your teammates, other parents, your coach, etc. AllPlayers.com makes it easy to do this quickly and easily. You can read and write messages from many places throughout the system, but it's always easy to choose Messages from the Home page. From the dropdown menu, you can click on Sent (view your sent messages), Compose (Write a new private message to send), Inbox (view received messages), Broadcast (create a message to send out to multiple users/groups). If you are a group admin, you can broadcast a message by clicking on the Broadcast link next to the megaphone, on the group page. If you click Inbox Messages>Inbox, here's what you will see something similar to:

The screenshot shows the AllPlayers.com interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links: Welcome, Sandy Butler | Log-Out, PROFILE, MESSAGES (6), CALENDAR, PEOPLE, GROUPS, and SEARCH. Below this is a sub-header with the AllPlayers.com logo and a 'beta' tag. The main content area is titled 'Messages (6)' and has tabs for 'Inbox', 'Sent messages', 'All messages', and 'Write new message'. The 'Inbox' tab is selected. Below the tabs is a table of messages with columns: Subject, Participants, and Last Updated. The table lists 10 messages, including administrative notifications and upcoming events. At the bottom of the message list, there is an 'Actions' section with a 'Delete' button and a 'More actions...' dropdown menu.

From here, you can:

- Check your Inbox
- View your Sent messages
- See All of your messages
- Write a new message

Tagging Message(s)

Tagging messages allow you to perform actions to multiple messages at the same time. This is a big time-saver. You will be able to:

- Delete messages
- Mark them as Read

- Mark them as Unread

There are two ways to tag messages:

- Click on the box to the left of the message to take it. If it is tagged, clicking it will un-tag it
- Click on the box in the column heading to tag all of the messages on
 - Clicking it again will un-tag all of them

Messages that are tagged will appear with a different color.

Deleting Message(s)

Once you have one or more messages tagged, you can delete them by clicking Delete.

Changing the Status of Message(s)

Once you have one or more messages tagged, you can change their status to Read or Unread. It may be helpful to change a read message back to unread if you don't want to miss re-reading it later. It also may be helpful to mark an unread message read if you know what it is just from the subject line.

Undoing a Tagged Action

Once you have deleted or changed the read status of one or more messages, you have a chance to undo these actions by clicking the undo link in the small pop up box that appears. If you click undo, you will get a new message saying marked # threads as read/unread.

Writing a New Message

Messages>Compose or Messages>Inbox>Write new message

To write a new message:

- click on the Write new message link
- type the recipient's name (this is required)
- add a subject
- write a message
- click Send message to send
- click Cancel if you have a change of heart and do not want to send it

When you click Send, you will see an information alert saying that your message has been sent.

Viewing Message(s)

All of the first three tabs have the same functionality but show different messages.

- The Inbox only shows incoming messages
- Sent messages shows messages that you sent

- All messages show these two types combined. That way you can see the chronology of the threads.

Here's what you can see and do with messages:

- If a message is unread, it will be bolded
- You can read a message by clicking its subject (see Reading a Message)
- You can see the profile of any participants listed in any message by clicking their name
- You can sort by Subject or Last Updated by clicking on the appropriate heading
- Clicking on the heading of a column that is already sorted will reverse the direction of the sort
- You can tag messages to perform actions on one or more messages at once (see Tagging Messages)

Reading a Message

When you click the subject of a message, you will see a new link called Read message. After you read the message, you can:

- See the name of the thread. In this example the thread is Après ski party
- Click on any name in the message to view that person's profile
- Click Delete message to delete the message. You will be asked to confirm
- Reply to the thread by filling in the Message section at the bottom of the page
- Click Send message to send the message or click Clear to start over

Month View

In the month view you can:

- See an entire month
- See events in the appropriate day (just like a wall calendar)
- Click on an event to pop up a window that shows the details of the event.

Exporting your Calendar

Click on the calendar icon (lower right) exports the calendar as an .ics file (iCalendar standard format) and your browser will offer to help you open the file or save it on your computer. The window that pops up will have a different appearance depending on the web browser you are using but the functionality will be similar.

People

This section is an easy way to check out and communicate with people you know as well as a place to invite your friends to register with Allplayers.com. After clicking on People in the header, you have the option to show the following:

- Friends – If you have connected to any friends in the allplayers.com system, you will see them listed here. This is the same functionality as clicking # friends or See All under the Friends panel on the Home page. If you don't have friends, you can click on Profile>Find to begin a search for friends.
 - (see the section Managing your Friends)
- Group mates - Here you can see who is on your group
 - If you are not in a group – you will see a message that you don't have any group mates yet and that you when you join a group, you will automatically become group mates with those on that group
 - If you are in a group - You see their profile photo if they selected one next to the group mate's name. If you click the group mate's name, you will go to their profile page
- Find - This allows you to find friends, add friends, see their profile picture, and send them a message.
 - See the section Finding Friends for more details

Groups

Here's why you are on AllPlayers.com in the first place. To play! The Groups sections have all the information you need to rest easy and put your energy into playing your sport. The best place to get started is from the Home page under Groups.

You'll need to join (or create) a group. From the Home page, you can find a group to register first then join. I hope you are getting the idea that navigating in AllPlayers.com is very flexible.

Find a Group

There are several places throughout the system where you can find a group. The easiest is from Groups>Find Group. On this page, you will see and can do the following:

- Join and work with groups listed at the bottom of the page (see the section below)
- Narrow your criteria for finding a group

Filtering Groups

Enter information in any or all of these fields then click Apply to see the filtered list of Groups:

- Organization Name
- Postal code – this will show Groups in this zip code
- Distance – enter the radius from your chosen location
- Choose miles or kilometers for this distance
- Category – choose your category from the dropdown list
- Registration status – you can choose from:
 - Open Registration
 - All Groups

[+] Feedback

You have the ability to create a new group by clicking the link under Groups>Create Group. You are not eligible to create a group if you are a child or acting on behalf of a child. You can see Create Group if you are not a child or acting on behalf of your child. If you have already created one or more groups, you will see list of the groups you manage. For more information, refer to the Group Administration chapter.

Working with Groups

Once you find the list of groups you want to work with you can:

- Sort them by any of the underlined column headers – click on the currently-sorted column header to change the sort direction
- To Register for a group, click Register- see the Register for a Group section for more information
- Click on the group name to View the Group

Register for a Group

Confirmation

Once you have found a group to register for (see Filtering Groups) and click Register, you will see a new Registration page (see picture) and be asked to Select a user to register. This shows eligible registrants from you and your children (if you have any). You will also be asked to select a Role to register. For example if you were registering for a team, the roles might be player or coach.

The group administrator can choose what data to gather at the time of registration, it will vary by the group that you are registering for.

Click Proceed to next step or Cancel.

The screenshot shows the AllPlayers.com website interface. At the top, a dark red header bar contains a yellow shield logo on the left, and text on the right: "Welcome, Sandy Butler | Log-Out", "PROFILE", and "MESSAGES (4)". Below the header, the main content area has a white background. The title "Registration for All Madden League" is displayed in a large, bold, dark red font. Below the title is a yellow megaphone icon and the word "Broadcast" in yellow. The form section is titled "Select User » Profile" and "Select a user: *". It lists three users with radio buttons: "Sandy Butler (Age:35) - Female" (selected), "Grant Butler (Age:9) - Male", and "Sandra Butler (Age:7) - Female". Below this list is the text "Haven't added your child to your account yet?" followed by a red button labeled "Add them now". The next section is "Select a role: *" with a radio button for "Volunteer (Age:18-70)". Below that is "Select a preferred subgroup:" with a dropdown menu showing "None". At the bottom of the form are two yellow buttons: "Proceed to next step" and "Cancel".

If the group/organization you are viewing is associated with a smaller group or subgroup, it will be listed here. You can click on the name to view the group page.

After clicking on the group name, you can:

- View group information

- Register for the group
- Click on Calendar link to see the group calendar
- Click on Schedule link to see the group schedule

Guardian Panel

This panel displays a list of guardians whose children are on the team. For each Guardian you will see the name of the guardian and the child that is a group member. Click on the guardians name to view their profile. The guardians may also be seen under the Members Panel.

Group Members Panel

This panel displays all the members of the group, which may include administrators, players, coaches, guardians, fans, volunteers, and any other designation that your Administrator has defined. For each person listed, you will see their profile photo and their name. Click either to go to their profile.

Images Panel

This panel shows all the images that have been tagged for this group. Click on any image to view it in more detail.

Group/Team Schedule Panel (if applicable)

This panel displays the group's schedule. For example, if the group is a team, then the team schedule would be displayed. The panel would show you a chronological listing of the team's games. For each game, you would see:

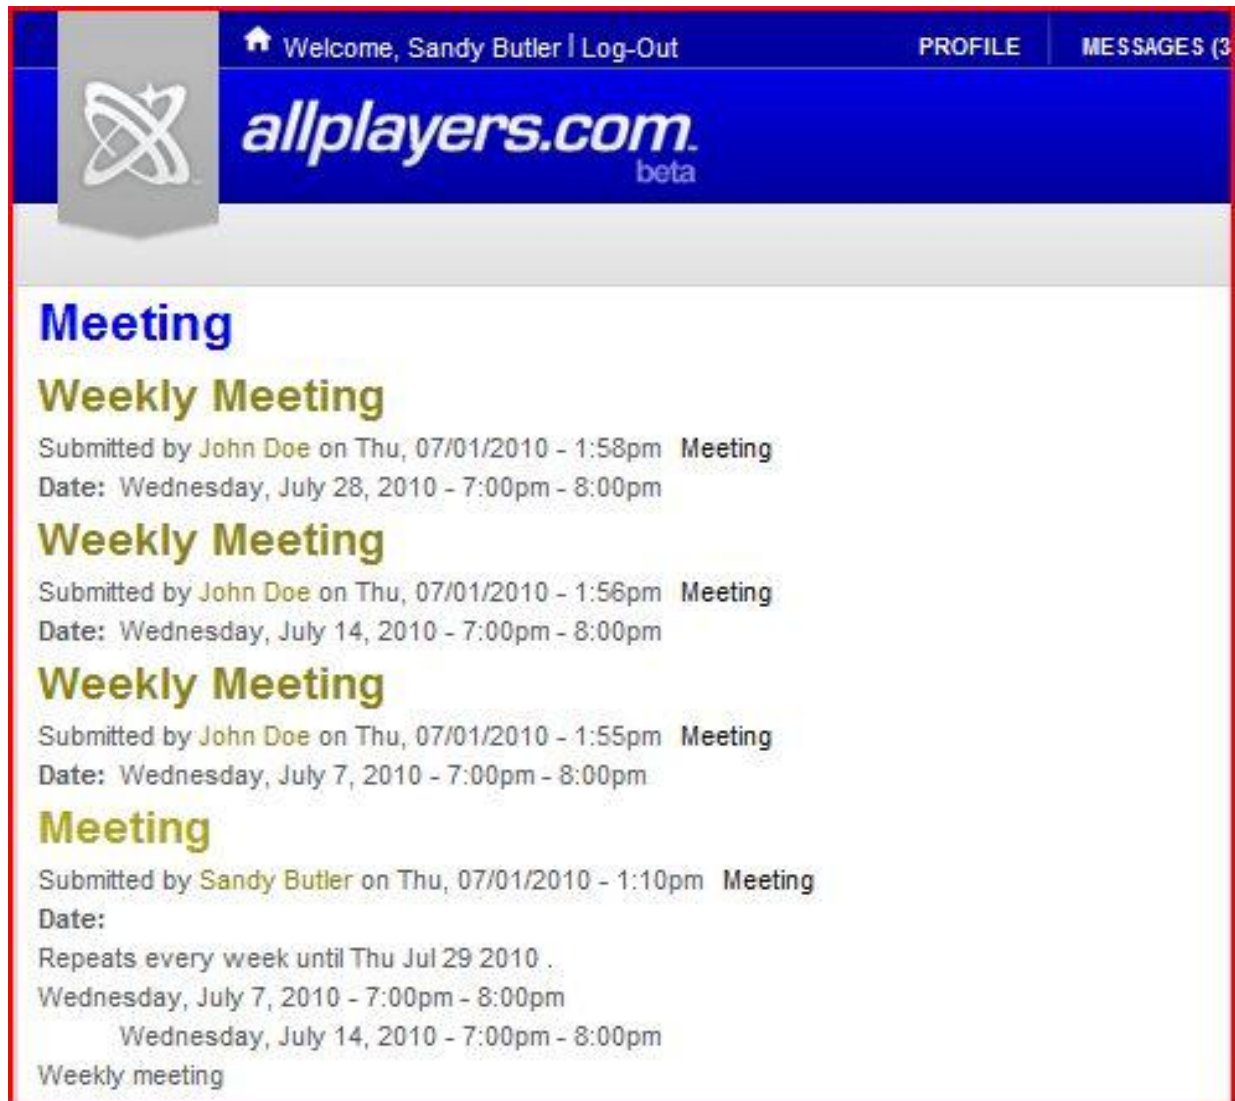

- the name (description) of the game— click on this to see details for this game
- the date and time
- the groups – click on either group to View that Group
- the result (if played)

Games Schedule

Game 10	06/05/2010 - 11:23am	Triple Play, Celtics	W 13-8

Upcoming Events Panel

If there are any upcoming events, this panel will be displayed. By clicking on the event link, you can view the details:

- The description of the event, for example a game, practice, scrimmage, party
- The date and time
- Location
- There is also a link to Flag as offensive, in case you find it so. Items flagged as offensive will be investigated and offensive materials removed.

Registration Link

This link will take you to the group's registration page. Click this link to register for the group. See the Register for a Group section.

Schedule Tab

In the upper left of the page is the group's Schedule tab. Clicking on this tab displays the group's schedule. For example, if the group is a team, then the team schedule would be displayed. There will be a Team Record panel on the left side of the page. The rest of the page would show a chronological listing of the team's games. For each game, you would see:

- the name (description) of the game— click on this to see details for this game
- the date and time
- the teams – click on either team to View that Team
- the result (if played)

Calendar Tab

Clicking this tab will take you to a mini calendar or month view of the group's calendar. This is different from the Group Calendar link, because it only shows the current month. You can still click on an event to see details. You will also see an Upcoming Events panel on the left side of the screen displaying the group's upcoming events in a list format.

Photo Album

Clicking on this link will take you to the group's photo album. The page will show all of the pictures that have been tagged to the group. To view a photo, simply click and a larger image will appear on the screen.

Children

You can add and manage your children's accounts. AllPlayers.com is fully COPPA compliant which means we verify a parent's identity and then they can control access to their child's account and what their child can and cannot do if they are under the age 13.

Children Under 13

Here are some features for children under 13:

- They are blocked from creating an account (unless they lie about their age)
 - This prohibits them from registering for the correct league as most leagues do birth certificate verification
- They are restricted in their actions based on parental settings that specify what they are allowed to do (see Account section)
- Their personal information is protected from the public and shown only those relationships that the parent allows (see Site Preferences section)

- Their personal information is not searchable

Parent Options

Here are some features for parents:

- Create your own account on the system
- create parent-associated accounts for all your children
- ID verification
 - ID verification (option on edit/profile) only display to parents
 - Status posting is removed when under 13 and parent verification has not occurred yet
 - (see ID Verification section)
- Can act on behalf of your child on the system
 - Parent/Child control/act on behalf of only happens through age 13 of the child
- Can edit your child's information
 - Is copied on any messages where your child is a recipient or is the sender
 - Can set the privacy for your child on the system throughout the system
 - Can set who the child can access in terms of friends (nobody, friends, fans, everybody)
 - Can set who the child can access as fan of and see who is a fan of them
 - Can set who has access to the child's friends
 - Can set who has access to the child's profile
 - Can set who has access to the child's image (avatar)
 - Can set who has access to the child's photo albums
 - Can allow or not allow a child to:
 - View other profiles
 - Send friend requests
 - Message others
 - Upload photos
 - Change your profile avatar
 - Invite people
- Able to approve other parents or guardians for your children so that both parents are able to have full parental rights for your children on the system
 - From the child's profile page select "relationship" then invite a parent or Guardian
- Can find a group/league for a specific activity/sport in your area
- Can register your children for a group which fits your requirements
- Will automatically be associated as a parent for any group/ teams your children are on
- Can see both your groups and your children's groups (see Teams)
- Will have all your events merged with child's events on your calendar

Second Parent

- Is able to gain parental rights for a child on the system through invite
- Can request (or be invited) from the original (or 1st parent setup on the system) to be authorized as an additional parent for your children

Separate parental ID verification would be required for each parent.

Signing Up Your Child

(Children>Add a child)

For your convenience, you are able to add a child in several different places in the site. From the homepage or profile page, click the Add a child link under the My Children panel. A new window opens where you add your child's:

- Name
- Birthday
- Gender
- Title
- Email (this defaults to the parent's email)
- Password
- Answer a simple math question
- Click COPPA Privacy Policy to read what it entails
- Click Create new account

ID Verification

(Profile>ID Verification)

One of the ways AllPlayers.com creates a safe environment is to verify the identity of someone who registered as a parent. Once verified through approved COPPA verification methods, the parent then has complete control over a child's account. This approach gives the parent governing rights over your children and prevents personal identifiable information from being posted without the parent's verifiable consent.

Setting Up Your Child's Profile

(My Children panel>Add a child)

Click on your child's name under the My Children panel. This takes you to your child's profile page where at the bottom left of the page under the User Control panel, click Act on behalf of this user.

At the bottom of the screen, you will see a notification bar indicating that you are now acting on behalf of your child and a link to switch back to your own account.

(See Setting Up Your Profile section for more)

Viewing Your Child's Profile

Click on your child's name under My Children or Friends on your Home page. You can also click on your child's name on your Profile page - either under My Children or Friends. This takes you to your child's profile page.

Act On Behalf of This User

At the bottom left of the child's page, under User Control panel, you can click Act on behalf of this user in order to modify profile settings or to act on behalf of your child.

You will see an alert that let you know that you are acting on behalf of your child. You are always able to switch back to your account by clicking the here link.

You are currently acting on behalf of Ashley Emmi. You can switch back to your account by clicking here.

When you do switch back to your account, you will see an information alert that you have switched back to your account.

Friends

Friends are an important part of AllPlayers.com. You can access this functionality from many different places throughout the system. This functionality looks and feels the same regardless of where you access your friend information.

You can always access your friends from the Home page. Click People>Friends (shown here). This displays your friends and allows you to do several things.

Finding Friends

To find friends, add friends, see your profile and send them a message, click People>Find on the main menu.

This takes you to a new page where you can enter search criteria. Just entering part of your friend's name brings up a list of people registered in AllPlayers.com. To choose who you want to be your friends, you can click:

- To select all the names on the list – click the column header checkbox (above all the other boxes) to add all the names you found
- To select one or some of the names on the list – click the individual checkboxes next to the names you want

Now, you are able to do two things:

- To add friends: You can add click Add as Friend
- To send a message: you can click Send Message
 - This takes you to a separate page where you enter a subject and a message and click either Send message or Cancel

Managing your Friends

To see what you can do with your friends in the system, click People>Friends on the main menu.

This takes you to a page with a list of your friends where you can:

- Click on a friend's name to go to your profile page
- Remove a friend - To remove a friend, click Remove next to any friend (or child). This adds a panel at the top of the page that gives you one more chance to keep the friend. By clicking Yes, you will see a confirmation that your friend has been removed from your friend list.
- Send a message to a friend - Click Send Message next to any friend (or child) to send them a message. (See Writing a new message section)

Viewing a Friend's (or Child's) Profile

If you have children, they will show up as a friend also. Clicking on your child's name takes you to your profile page. See the Children chapter for more information and privacy matters.

By clicking a friend that is not your child, you are taken to your friend's profile page. What you can see depends on the visibility settings your friend chose in their profile.

Photos

You can do many things with your pictures including:

- Post pictures for your friends to see
- Arrange them into albums
- Tag groups for group mates to see

This is a great way to share photos of groups, teams, games, celebrations, kids or anything else you want your friends to see. You can manage and view your photos from many places in AllPlayers.com but the easiest way is from the photos panel on the Home Page.

Creating Your First Album

In order to upload pictures to the site, just click the Home page link and scroll to the bottom (left) where you will see the photos panel.

1. Click Create a Photo Album
2. You are then asked to name the album. Give it a name and click Save
3. Now you are ready to add photos
4. You are now on the Create Image page

Create Image

You see the Create Image page, where you can see your album name and you can upload pictures from your computer. This page lets you add photos to this (current) album but is flexible enough to add photos to any of your albums. Here are the steps to upload a photo:

- Verify your album name from the dropdown labeled Albums
- Click the small green circle with a + sign in the middle
- Select pictures from your computer to upload into the album
- Click Save to upload a picture and save the image settings or Cancel All Uploads.
 - You will see a Status message confirming an image has been created
- Click Next step. Notice the message that your picture file is in queue

- Edit Captions – Give your photo a name (this is required)
- When you are finished, click Done Editing
 - You will see a Status messages confirming all images have been saved and published.
You have the option to add and upload additional pictures
- Note: You also have the option to switch to classic upload mode by clicking the link at the bottom of the section - Switch to classic upload mode
 - This allows you to upload one picture at a time
 - The default setting is regular multi-upload mode

Viewing Your Albums

Even though there are many places to view your photos throughout the system, the easiest is from the Photos panel on your Home page.

You can see several of your albums in the Photos panel. To see all of them and have access to more functionality for your albums, click on the # albums link or See All.

Once you are viewing your albums, you may add another album by clicking Create a Photo Album. For each album, you may edit or view the album by clicking on Edit Album or View Album. You may also view the album by clicking on the photo associated with it.

Viewing One Album

Once you have created an album, you can view and edit it. You will see all your albums in the photos panel on the Home page. Click on one of the albums – either the associated picture or its name - to view the album. Or you click on the # albums link or See All. Select your album and then click View.

You will now see the album. You can:

- Click Back to Photos to see all of your albums
- Click Add More Photos
- Click any of the photos to View the Photo

Organizing Photos in an Album

Once you are viewing an album (see the previous section), you may click on the Organize Photos tab. Once there, simply drag the photos around to put them in the order that you would like. Click Save Changes to save the new order.

Editing an Album

You can see your albums in the Photos panel. To see all of them and have access to more functionality for your albums, click on # albums or See All.

Once you are viewing you albums, click Edit Album to change its name. Click Save or Delete.

Adding Photos to an Album

Start by clicking the album name. Then, click Add More Photos. You are always given the chance to add photos once you create the album, but you can also add them when viewing an album. This takes you to the Create Image section.

Now you are ready to add photos or create more albums.

Viewing a Photo

Once you are Viewing an Album, click on any photo to view it. It will probably be larger than the thumbnail preview. When you are finished viewing the picture, you may:

- Go Back to the Album that contains this picture

- Click Previous or Next to see other pictures in this album
- Click Edit Photo to change the photo or its attributes. See the next section for more details editing a photo
- Click on the photo to tag a friend. A Friend's box appears over the photo and you can type in your name. Click Ok to save it or Cancel. You can see this information at the bottom left of the page
- See all people and groups who are flagged in this photo - shown in the bottom left corner
- Click Flag as inappropriate – this link enables you to flag an inappropriate picture

Once you are viewing a photo (see the previous section), click Edit Photo. From here, you may:

- Go back to viewing the picture by choosing the View tab
- Change the album it is attached to - just pick an album from the Album dropdown
- Change the photo Title
- Add Group Tags so that this photo may be viewed from that group's page
 - You may add additional groups if the picture already has tagged teams
- Remove tags by clicking Remove next to the tagged group
- Change the picture or replace it with a touched up version, etc.
 - Click Browse and find the new picture on your computer
- Select the Rebuild Derivative Photos box in order to regenerate the thumb nail or various sizes images from the originally uploaded photo
- Click Save to save all of your changes
- Click Delete to remove this picture from the album
 - If you do, you will be asked to confirm as the delete cannot be undone

Deleting a Photo

Start by editing the photo (see the previous section). Then click the Delete button at the bottom of the page. When you do, you will be asked to confirm as the delete cannot be undone.

Administration

This chapter and the remaining chapters help you create and organize the activities that the players/group mates will do. Start by creating a league. From there, you can link an association. Then you can continue to create a division and finally teams within that division. Here's an example hierarchy:

- League 1
 - Administrator(s)
 - Association (non-exclusive)
 - Division 1
 - Team 1
 - Coach
 - Other roles
 - Players
 - Player 1
 - Player 2
 - ...
 - Player n
 - Team 2
 - ...
 - Team n
 - Division 2
 - Team 1

Coaches

Features at a Glance

Here is an easy way to update players and other team members regarding:

- Game schedules
- Game changes
- Snack schedules

What coaches can do:

- Create/design an official team page to organize and promote the team
- Schedule games with teams not on the site
- Create and share schedules, information and real-time updates with parents and players
 - Schedule events for the team such as practice, scrimmage, exhibition, meeting, party, etc. that will show up on the calendar for all persons associated with the team.
- Broadcast a message to specific or all members of a team
- Perform parent id verification if the league has been approved for id verification
- Invite additional non-users to the system including friends of the team, officials, media outlets and other coaches
 - Collect registration fees for teams and players
- Communicate with league administrators
- Have access to valuable association training and coaching materials

How to be designated as a coach:

- A coach can be invited to a team. He can respond to the link in that email, create an account and then accept a request to be put onto that team
- A League Admin can target an invite for a coach for a specific team where they are automatically setup as coach when an account is setup
- Alternatively, a coach can create an account – then a League admin could place them on the team and set them as the coach of the team

Team Administration

Features at a Glance

Team Admins have the ability to manage the team accounts. League Admins can do everything Team Admins can do.

- Team Admins have ability to edit the team page and set team-name, logo, mascot, team colors
- Team colors are shown on the headings and dropdowns on the team page
- Team Admins can select Manage Groups from the team page
 - May select which role team members are part of (i.e. admin, coach, player, custom)
 - New roles can be created
- Team Admins can broadcast to any of the various personnel in a role
 - Can broadcast to all team members, coach members, player members, parent members, admin members or any combinations of the role that exist
- Can invite people to be coaches, admins or any other role
 - If an invitee is not in the system, they will get an email with a link to create account
 - If registered (or once they register), they will have a request to join

Group Administration

Now the fun begins! Follow along in this and the remaining chapters to create all you need for a robust group filled with divisions, teams, players, fans, volunteers, and much more.

Create a Group

Only the official group administrator can create a group, as it is a required field. To create a group, go to Groups and click Create Group. Fill in the following fields:

- Group name
- Group Description – optional
- Location-Address
- Group Category
- Group Type
- Features – choose whether to enable the group calendar and/or registration
- Settings
 - Private-hide your group's content from non members
 - Active-decide whether the group is active or inactive
 - Fee (Approval Required)-Receive payments for registration fees
 - Group Mates-This feature enables all members of this group to automatically become group mates. This will allow them to see each other's profiles and message each other
 - Select the groups above your group
- Additional Options – Choose two colors for your groups page and upload a group logo/image

- Location Panel: Displays the group's address: 14700 Marsh Lane, Addison, TX, 75001, with a link to 'See map: Google Maps'.
- Downhill Skiing Panel: Features a 'Broadcast' icon and a 'Calendar' section for July 2010. The calendar shows dates from 1 to 31, with some dates highlighted in green and blue.
- Images Panel: Shows three small photos of people skiing.
- Groups Above Panel: Lists other groups, with 'Teton Ski League' visible.
- Register Panel: Includes a 'Register' button.
- Team Record Panel: Shows a record of '0-0'.

A 'Dashboard' modal window is open in the bottom right, allowing users to change the layout (currently set to '<Site default>') and select a category. It includes 'Save changes' and 'Cancel' buttons.

Panels

In addition to the Group logo or picture, you will see the Group address underneath with a link to Google Maps that you can click to see where it is.

You will also see several panels on this page:

- Group Panel – This panel will display the group name. You can click on the Invite link to send invitations, to other people to join your group as a player, coach, fan, volunteer, manager, etc.
- Registration Panel – Click on the link to view and manage your group's registration. If you have not configured your group's registration, then click the configure your settings link.

- Group Record Panel-This panel will display the group's win/loss/tie record. For example, if the group is a team, then the team record would be displayed in the panel.
- Guardians Panel- this panel will display a list of guardians whose children are on the team.
- Groups Above Panel- If the group is associated with a larger group/organization, it will be displayed in this panel.
- Schedule Panel (if applicable)-This panel will display the group's schedule.

Invite

This is where you invite users to join the group. Click on the Invite link under the Group Panel. This will take you to a screen where you fill out the required fields (the role for which the user will be added, email, message) and click send Invite when done.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with a 'beta' label in the top right. A modal dialog box titled 'Invite User to Join' is open, featuring a 'Close Window' button in the top right corner. The dialog contains the following fields and options:

- A dropdown menu showing 'North Park Baseball' with a downward arrow.
- Text: 'Select the to which this user should be promoted.'
- Section: 'Role: *' with a list of roles: Admin, Coach (checked), Player, Volunteer, Fan, and Manager.
- Text: 'Select the role(s) for which the user should be added.'
- Text: 'From: sandy@example.com'
- Text: 'Email / Name: *' followed by an empty text input field.
- Section: 'CSV input' with text: 'Enter the email address(es) of the person you wish to invite.'
- Text: 'Subject: Sandy Butler has sent you an invite!'
- Text: 'Message:' followed by a large empty text area.
- Text: 'The text you wish the recipient to see in the email'
- A yellow highlighted button at the bottom: 'Click to send the invite to the email address(es) entered above.'

Schedule

This tab shows you a chronological listing of the team's games. For each game, you will see:

- The event– shows the two teams involved in the game. Click on this to see details for this game, enter game results, and view team profiles.
- the event category- the category
