GET READY TO

KNOW A Thing or Two About Getting Organized

Some say a messy workspace is the sign of a creative mind.

Personally, clutter slows me down, so in honor of the brand spanking new year, I say let's get organized!

Get things down to size. Nothing clears a sea of paper like going digital. Do it whenever you can and store data on the most practical medium at your disposal—disc, drive, tape, digital recorder, a cloud perhaps?

Nothing wrong with old school. Face it, we're never going to be completely paperless. Hard copy, folders as well as all those discs need to be filed. Period. Stuff you don't use regularly? That's what sturdy, stackable storage boxes live for.

Better living through labeling. If you're fed up with the clutter that's mocking you, a labeler's got your name on it. Well-marked shelves, boxes, files etc., make for easy organization and more importantly, quick access.

We're not as wireless as we think. Nothing says disorganized like cable chaos so until the wireless office becomes a reality, you can tame that tangle of cords with a hook here, a clamp there.

My best advice for a swell, organized new year? Find a place for everything. Then put it there.

KNOW A Little History

HP knows LTOs.

When it comes to data storage, LTO has a whole heck of a lot going for it. Low cost, huge capacity, exceptional speed, amazing reliability. So what makes HP LTO storage tops in the field? For starters, HP uses extreme testing that goes beyond what's required by the LTO logo specification.

This makes for more reliable, durable media that's perfect for heavy-duty applications. Case in point, HP LTO-5 Ultrium can write or read data at a blistering 1TB/hour, storing, encrypting and protecting up to 3TB on a single cartridge, making it the big hitter in large-scale, 24x7, mission-critical IT environments. Plus, tests run by HP revealed that cheaper brands deliver higher error rates, which ultimately result in lost data and drive damage.

Chip-on-board USB. Smaller, lighter and still holds a load.

B. USB 2.0 COB Flash Drive Chip-on-board technology allows this USB storage drive to be ultra compact for maximum portability. Slider case retracts the chip when not in use, protecting the contacts. Lanyard and carabiner-style clip offer flexible portability options and prevent loss. Patented LED indicator shows file transfer activity. Drive retains data for up to five years. USB plug and play requires no drivers. Compatible with Mac® OS X 10.1 and Later; Windows® 2000, XP, Vista™, 7; Linux® 2.4 and Later. Manufacturer's limited two-year warranty. RoHS Compliant.

HELP

Smart Solutions for Taking Care of Business

Necessity. It's the mother of invention all right.

So too the need for ever cooler gear. With that, I bring you my thoughts on essential accessories—smart gadgets designed to up your comfort quotient, help maintain your sanity or simply save the world.

Love that iPad?

Yeah you do. Truth? All that touchy behavior can make for a smudgy, scratched screen. Add sunlight and your view is anything but optimal. Don't underestimate the benefit of a screen protector. That's all it takes to keep that precious screen and your view crystal clear.

Don't break your back. Whether you're traveling or just going through your day, the right bag can mean the difference between contentment and contempt. Get one that's light yet durable, with roomy compartments, and it'll function more like a travel buddy than what you schlep your stuff in.

Keyboard to happiness.

The average user taps 2 million keystrokes a day. What? Guess you better get comfortable. Luckily when it comes to keyboards, you've got options and accessories made not just for your personal comfort, but that of the planet.

Funky little beads turn typing and mousing into a massaging experience.

HELP Smart Solutions for Office Management

Tools You Should Use.

Chaos sucks the productivity out of any day, and oftentimes it's the result of simply not having what you need to keep things under control. Whether we're talking about your office or your business as a whole, the right tools can mean the difference between mayhem and making things happen. Here's what I suggest:

UPS (Uninterrupted Power Supply). During a power failure, the lights go out, your systems go down, you lose data, and then you cry. With a battery backup system, you stay up and running and enjoy enough time to save and shut down.

No business interruption, no lost files, no tears.

Digital Voice Recorders.

They take the stress out of capturing (and retaining) every word of every meeting. Likewise, they commit every bit of minutiae to memory.

Shredders. Scanners.

Storage Media. We're surrounded by a behemoth of data. Be sure to take advantage of gear that's designed to manage it or get rid of it altogether.

Expandable Phone Systems.

Add handsets as you need them. Talk about an easy way to maximize communications without the cost of going custom.

Multifunctions.

Print. Copy. Scan. Fax. One machine does the work of four. Just sayin'.

THE LAST WORD

"Here's to 2012!"

Despite what the Mayan calendar has to say, my guess is that 2012 will not mark the end of the world. (Remember Y2K? Anyone?) But if you play your cards right, 2012 can be the year you finally make good on that pesky "get organized" resolution. And we're here to help with our Storage and Organization issue. Whether it's data, documents or a deluge of discs, inside you'll find the right tools to indulge your inner neat freak and take control of it all.

What's your storage pleasure? We've got discs, diskettes, tapes and drives. Wallets, cases and big boxes too. Because capturing all the digital info in the world doesn't mean squat if you can't keep track of the media it's stored on. And of course, nothing says "organized" like printed labels, so be sure to check out our smart selection of mighty fine labelers.

More? You bet. Printers, the best in imaging supplies, keyboards, backpacks, bags, headsets, phone systems, you get the idea— all manner of goodies, plus some seriously sweet deals on your favorite tech.

Yep, I predict this is going to be the year to get your office in order and your tech assets in gear. I promise, come 2013, you'll be glad you did.
