2. Q: What is Kbps?

A: Kbps means numbers of kilobytes which transferred per second. The bigger the number it shows the more data it transfers in one second. It means that acoustics will be better but also takes more bandwidth and more time to wait.

When it shows "--", it means we don't have the information so far.

3. Q: Does the software need to be installed?

A: No installation is needed, but downloading some ActiveX control files at the first time, or when we update it, is required. You only need to plug the dongle into the USB port and click [OK] when the player pops out automatically; then it will take few seconds to complete download. After that, you won't need to download the file any more.

7. Q: Why is there some noise and broken sound during playing?

A: This is a portal of internet radio/TV to let users connect to the stations to get the streaming. Therefore, [Broken sound] might happen when bandwidth is insufficient or internetworking is congested. In this case, we suggest you choosing the stations with lower bit-rate (kbps), or adjust the buffer size of Window Media Player.

In the Windows Media Player, click the Tools Menu, select the Options choice, select the Performance tab, select the Buffer radio button, type a new value in the buffer text box from 1 - 60, for example 10, click the Apply and OK button. You're done.

You may need to do this more than once. Try increasing the buffer size in small increments until you find one that best balances performance and buffer times.

Noise could be caused by unstable sound quality provided by the station.
