battery

battery charging notes

For instructions on charging the battery, see your Quick Start Guide.

Tip: Motorola batteries have circuitry that protects the battery from damage from overcharging.

Note: You can charge your battery by connecting a cable from your phone's micro-USB port to a USB port on a computer. Both your phone and the computer must be turned on and your computer must have the correct software drivers installed. A Motorola Original USB cable and supporting software may be included with your phone. These tools are also sold separately.

battery use & safety

- Motorola recommends you always use Motorola-branded batteries and chargers. The warranty does not cover damage caused by non-Motorola batteries and/or chargers. Caution: Use of an unqualified battery or charger may present a risk of fire, explosion, leakage or other hazard. Improper battery use or use of a damaged battery, may result in a fire, explosion or other hazard.
- Battery usage by children should be supervised.
- Important: Motorola mobile devices are designed to work best with qualified batteries. If you see a message on your display such as Invalid Battery or Unable to Charge, take the following steps:
  - Remove the battery and inspect it to confirm that it bears a Motorola "Original Equipment" hologram;
  - If there is no hologram, the battery is not a qualified battery;
  - If there is a hologram, replace the battery and retry charging it;
  - If the message remains, contact a Motorola Authorised Service Centre.
- New batteries or batteries stored for a long time may take more time to charge.

- Charging precautions: When charging your battery, keep it near room temperature. Never expose batteries to temperatures below 0°C (32°F) or above 45°C (113°F) when charging. Always take your mobile device with you when you leave your vehicle.
- When storing your battery, keep it in a cool, dry place.
- It is normal over time for battery life to decrease and for the battery to exhibit shorter runtime between charges or require more frequent or longer charging times.
- Avoid damage to battery and mobile device. Do not disassemble, open, crush, bend, deform, puncture, shred or submerge the battery or mobile device. Avoid dropping the battery or mobile device, especially on a hard surface. If your battery or mobile device has been subjected to such damage, take it to a Motorola Authorised Service Centre before using. Do not attempt to dry it with an appliance or heat source, such as a hair dryer or microwave oven.
- Use care when handling a charged battery—particularly when placing it inside a pocket, purse or other container with metal objects. Contact with metal objects (such as jewellery, keys, beaded chains) could complete an electrical circuit (short circuit), causing the battery to become very hot, which could cause damage or injury.

Promptly dispose of used batteries in accordance with local regulations. Contact your local recycling centre for proper battery disposal.

Warning: Never dispose of batteries in a fire because they may explode.

Specific Absorption Rate Data

This model meets international guidelines for exposure to radio waves.

Your mobile device is a radio transmitter and receiver. It is designed not to exceed the limits for exposure to radio waves recommended by international guidelines. These guidelines were developed by the independent scientific organization ICNIRP and include safety margins designed to assure the protection of all persons, regardless of age and health.

The guidelines use a unit of measurement known as the Specific Absorption Rate or SAR. The ICNIRP SAR limit for mobiles devices used by the general public is 2 W/kg and the highest SAR value for this device when tested at the ear was 0.89 W/kg.[1] As mobile devices offer a range of functions, they can be used in other positions, such as on the body as described in this user guide.[2] In this case, the highest tested SAR value is 0.62 W/kg.[1]

As SAR is measured utilising the device's highest transmitting power, the actual SAR of this device while operating is typically below that indicated above. This is due to automatic changes to the power level of the device to ensure it only uses the minimum level required to reach the network

While there may be differences between the SAR levels of various phones and at various positions, they all meet the governmental requirements for safe exposure. Please note that improvements to this product model could cause differences in the SAR value for later products; in all cases, products are designed to be within the guidelines.

The World Health Organization has stated that present scientific information does not indicate the need for any special precautions for the use of mobile devices. They note that if you want to reduce your exposure then you can do so by limiting the length of calls or using a "hands-free" device to keep the mobile phone away from the head and body.

Additional Information can be found on the websites of the World Health Organization (`http://www.who.int/emf`) or or Motorola, Inc (`http://www.motorola.com/rfhealth`).

1. The tests are carried out in accordance with international guidelines for testing. The limit incorporates a substantial margin for safety to give additional protection for the public and to account for any variations in measurements. Additional related information includes the Motorola testing protocol, assessment procedure and measurement uncertainty range for this product.
2. Please see the Safety and General Information section about body worn operation.
