

A photograph of an outdoor fireplace set into a light-colored stucco wall. The fireplace has a dark metal frame and a glass front, revealing a fire burning with logs inside. In front of the fireplace is a stone hearth. To the left and right of the hearth are wicker armchairs with striped cushions. In the center foreground are two wicker ottomans with white cushions. The floor is made of large, irregular stone tiles. The background wall has arched niches and decorative scrollwork.
