Vidyo[™] Extension for Microsoft® Lync® 2013 Quick User Guide

If you use Windows® and the Microsoft Lync client, you can install and use the Vidyo Extension for Microsoft Lync 2013. This extension enables you to escalate your Lync chat session to a Vidyo conference call, and invite one or more contacts from your Contact List to the call.

The Vidyo Extension for Lync is provided as an MSI installer and must be installed with administrative permissions.

Authenticating Your Vidyo Account

The first time you attempt to start a Vidyo conference with Vidyo Extension for Lync, you will be automatically asked to authenticate your Vidyo account using the Settings > Account tab. Otherwise, you can authenticate your account manually as explained in the following section.

Authenticating Your Account Manually

To authenticate your Vidyo account manually:

- 1. Open a chat window by double-clicking one of your Lync contacts.
- 2. Click More Options at the bottom of the chat window.
- 3. Click Vidyo Settings.

- On the Account tab, enter the VidyoPortal[™] you want to connect to.
- 5. Enter the username and password you use to access the VidyoPortal.
- 6. Click Authenticate Account.

Note: You can access the Account screen at any time by going to a Lync chat window, and selecting Vidyo Settings from the More Options menu.

Inviting Contacts from the Lync Contacts List

You can invite individual or multiple contacts from your Lync contacts list to a Vidyo meeting.

To invite contacts from your Lync contacts list:

- 1. Open a chat window by double-clicking one of your Lync contacts.
- 2. Click More Options at the bottom of the chat window.

3. Click Start Vidyo Conference.

4. If you want to invite more contacts to your meeting, drag and drop the additional contacts from your Contact List onto the chat window.

The "You have an incoming call from [name]" dialog appears to the invitee, as well as a link to the Vidyo room inside the Lync chat window.

- If the invitee clicks Accept, they automatically join the meeting via the Vidyo Extension for Lync.
- If the invitee clicks the Vidyo room link, they automatically join the meeting via VidyoWeb[™] or VidyoDesktop[™].
