- discourage and prevent harassment within the Saskatchewan Cheerleading Association;
- investigate formal complaints of harassment in a sensitive, responsible and timely manner;

- impose appropriate disciplinary or corrective measures when a complaint of harassment has been substantiated, regardless of the position or authority of the offender;

In addition, any member of the Saskatchewan Cheerleading Association who believes that a fellow member has experienced or is experiencing harassment is encouraged to notify a harassment officer appointed under this policy.

 - a) any member of the Saskatchewan Cheerleading Association Board of Directors
 - b) any senior Saskatchewan Cheerleading Association staff member

Consensual Relationships

16. In addition to a general Code of Ethics A specific Code of Ethics should be adopted which provides general principles and decision rules to cover most situations encountered by coaches, athletes, staff, board, officials etc..

[This is extremely important because voluntary sexual relationships are not forms of harassment. However, such relationships can be problematic when issues of power are involved. People in positions of authority have to understand that they have specific responsibilities to, even unintentionally, not exploit the power that they hold.]

Disciplinary Action

17. Employees or members of the Saskatchewan Cheerleading Association against whom a complaint of harassment is substantiated may be disciplined, up to and including employment dismissal or termination of membership.

Retaliation against any individual for reporting a violation of this policy will not be tolerated and will be grounds for discipline including discharge. Equally, because false accusations can have serious repercussions on innocent individuals, the wilful misuse of this policy or making deliberately false accusations may also be grounds for dismissal or termination of membership.

Confidentiality

18. The Saskatchewan Cheerleading Association understands that it can be extremely difficult to come forward with a complaint of harassment and that it can be devastating to be wrongly convicted of harassment. The Saskatchewan Cheerleading Association recognizes the interests of both the complainant and the respondent in keeping the matter confidential.
19. The Saskatchewan Cheerleading Association shall not disclose to outside parties the name of the complainant and respondent, or the circumstances giving rise to a complaint, unless such disclosure is required for a disciplinary or other remedial process.

 - b) The complainant brings evidence of harassment and chooses to pursue an informal resolution of the complaint
 - If this occurs, the harassment officer will assist the two parties to negotiate a solution acceptable to the complainant. If desired by the parties and if appropriate, the harassment officer may also seek the assistance of a neutral mediator.
 - If informal resolution yields a result that is acceptable to both parties, the harassment officer will make a written record that a complaint was made and was resolved informally to the satisfaction of both parties, and will take no further action.
 - If informal resolution fails to satisfy the complaint, the complainant will reserve the option of laying a formal written complaint.

 - whether the harassment was an isolated incident or part of an ongoing pattern;
 - the nature of the relationship between complainant and harasser;
 - the age of the complainant;
 - whether the harasser had been involved in previous harassment incidents;
 - whether the harasser admitted responsibility and expressed a willingness to change; and
 - whether the harasser retaliated against the complainant.
30. In recommending disciplinary sanctions, the panel may consider the following options, singly or in combination, depending on the severity of the harassment:
 - verbal apology;
 - a written apology;
 - a letter of reprimand from the sport organization;
 - referral to counselling;
 - removal of certain privileges of membership or employment;
 - demotion or a pay cut;
 - temporary suspension with or without pay;
 - termination of employment or contract; or
 - expulsion from membership.

[The policy also will include remedies that will take into consideration those that are harassed. These could include apologies, compensation for lost wages or fees, transfer to a new coach or supervisor, etc.]

[For example: a participant in a program is required to pay fees for participating. Because of harassing behaviour, the participants drop out of the program. The participant should at a minimum, be entitled to a refund of such fees.]

This could include circulating the policy or confronting individuals who are making inappropriate comments or engaging in inappropriate behaviour. Example, a coach over hears players making racist comments in a locker room. The coach should be encouraged to and supported in addressing that type of behaviour.]

[If a person in authority knows, or should reasonably have known, that a policy violation may have occurred and fails to take appropriate action, the person in authority has condoned the violation of the policy and may be subject to sanctions under these guidelines.]
